About six persons of every 1,000 are born with an extra bone near the collarbone. This does not, ordinarily, produce any pain but, in some persons, pain results from pressure on the nerve and blood vessels in the area, according to the 1962 Britannica Book of the Year.

Questers Make Picnic Excursion To Missouri

The Land of Lincoln Questers enjoyed their annual excursion and picnic Sunday, June 3. The historic home to be visited was the residence of the late Gen. Louis Bissell in Bellefontaine, Mo., a suburb of St. Louis near the Chain of Rocks bridge. This home had been taken over by the St. Louis County Historical Society and was presumably open to the public. Arriving there the group was regrettably informed by a son of the Bissell family residing there that it was still a private dwelling and not yet open for inspection.

The Questers in disappointment drove to Bellefontaine Park, overlooking the Mississippi River for a picnic lunch, and in the midst of the meal Mr. Bissell appeared.

extending an invitation from his mother to come back to visit the home so that the long trip would not have been for naught. Mrs. Smith, a great-granddaughter of Gen. Bissell, met the group at the door and conducted the Questers through the spacious rooms. She introduced her mother, Mrs. Bissell, wife of a grandson of General Bissell.

Narrate Highlights
In her narrative Mrs. Smith said that General Louis Bissell had in 1810 been sent west to command the old Fort Bellefontaine north of St. Louis.

Here on a knoll he built a great L-shaped two story brick mansion, in the midst of three hundred acres of rolling hills. Since then the L had been filled out to a rectangle with a two story wooden addition. The original home had a detached kitchen in the southern tradition. Mrs. Smith related how when she was a small girl they lived away in the country, and she watched the 300 acres whittled down by developers to the present nine acre island among the tightly built suburb.

The wallpaper in the hall was a French reproduction, repeated panels of scenes. Fine glass chandeliers and great fireplaces were in every room. Peaced floors of wide boards revealed the solid construction.

The family is moving in a few weeks, and in the rooms were the fine old heirloom pieces to be left. In the parlor and living room were two fine square pianos, two matched Empire card tables, two matched marble topped library tables, and huge matched mahogany framed mirrors.

In the dining room was a dining table perhaps twelve feet long and a huge sideboard of Empire style, reminders of the days of lavish entertainment and hearty meals. Upstairs in the bedrooms were antique beds and marble topped dressers. Outstanding was the huge four poster bed of the general, with tall sloping square mahogany pillars. The original canopy was said to be a reproduction of it.

Other mementoes were old rifles, the general's epaulettes, and a lithographed likeness of the stern countenance of General Bissell.

The group enjoyed the privilege of seeing the home, and complimented the hostess, her daughter and son for their gracious hospitality in making their excursion an unexpected success.

Memphis Back In The Union

One hundred years ago the "magnetic telegraph" brought cheering confirmation of the occupation of Memphis, and Jacksonville had another celebration—the first for a long time and the last one for months.

The telegraph had brought the news that the mayor of Memphis had turned over the town after the Confederate marine force there had been trounced by the heavier Union gunboats and the new Ellet Ram Fleet.

Before 1862 Memphis was a mighty important place to this section of Illinois. It was one of the best customers the towns along the Illinois river had and when it was bottled up by the South every segment of the economy here was hurt hard. Through Naples and Mercedosa this area had sent quantities of wheat, flour, rye, pork, beef and whiskey to Memphis.

It was mighty good territory to get back.

Among the dispatches from Memphis was this report from Col. Charles B. Ellet, commanding officer of the Ram Fleet:

Yesterday, after the engagement with the rebel fleet had nearly terminated, and the gunboats and one of my rams had passed below, I was informed that a white flag had been raised in the city. I immediately sent my son, a medical cadet, Charles R. Ellet, ashore with a flag of truce, and the following note to the authorities:

Opposite Memphis, June 8, 1862. I understand that the City of Memphis has surrendered. I therefore send you my son with two United States flags, with instructions to raise one upon the Customs-house and the other upon the Court-house as evidence of the return of your city to the care and protection of the Constitution.

Charles Ellet, Jun. Colonel Commanding

The bearer of the flag and the above note was accompanied by Lieutenant Crankell, of the Fifty-ninth Illinois Regiment, and two men of the boat guard.

The following is the reply of the Mayor of the city:

Memphis, June 8, 1862. Colonel Charles Ellet, Jun. Commanding, etc.

Sir: Your note of this date is received and the contents noted. The civil authorities of this city are not advised to its surrender to the forces of the United States government, and our reply to you is simply to state respectfully that we have no force to oppose the raising of the flags you have directed to be raised over the Customs-house and Post-office.

Respectfully John Park, Mayor

Quite a few of the boys from this section were in at the surrender of Memphis, for the Ram Fleet guard was made up of men transferred out of the 59th Illinois Infantry Regiment.

This regiment was made up of men from all sections of Illinois, and from many states. It was formed in St. Louis in the early days of the war by men who wanted to get into the scrap. But they found all the Illinois companies full so they went down to St. Louis and there formed the 9th Missouri Regiment. Since most of them were from Illinois it was later renamed the 59th Illinois.

Co. G. was mostly all from Greene county, with a few from Jersey and Morgan. They were rallied by Capt. Joshua C. Winters of White Hall, who later rose to major and then to lieutenant colonel of the regiment.

The outfit had a rough time of it, literally walking all over Missouri, Arkansas, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas. It was one of the first in the war and among the last out.

News, Views Century Ago

From the Jacksonville Sentinel: If you are opposed to negro equality and the emigration of negroes and Mulattoes into the state, vote for the new constitution.

The remains of Lieut. Nelson B. Newman, who was accidentally killed in some manner in the army, were brought to this city for interment on Wednesday, and were interred on Thursday with Masonic honors.

A large number of our citizens participated in the Picnic excursion to Petersburg, on last Thursday. Aside from the delay and annoyance caused by the balking of the iron horse at one of the heavy grades, the trip is said to have been pleasant.

A FEMALE AGITATOR
A traveling strong-minded woman, calling herself Mrs. Tracy Cutler, was advertised by posters to lecture on the war, and our duties growing out of the same, at the East Charge Methodist church on last Saturday night. Her discourse turned out an abolition harangue, urging the prohibition of the war to the forcible abolition of slavery.

She repeated her performance Monday night at the German Church, but her lecture was badly relished by the audience.

A CHILD FOUND
Written especially for the Sentinel by Mr. Bayless.

Notice is hereby given to that disconsolate, bereft mother, whose darling infant so mysteriously fled from the arms of its loving parent, that early on Monday morning, 9th inst., in the door yard of the Morgan County Poor House, was found a fine little girl, less than one week old, with dark hair, dark eyes, quite good-looking, and weighing eight pounds. The little stranger was poorly dressed—wrapped up in an old dirty white blanket, marked 504, with red, and looked as though it might have once contained wool, and been thus numbered in the carding machine.

Now should the agonizing mother fail to get information that will lead to the whereabouts of her lovely child, we then hope that some humane lady may see this notice, who may want a little girl to take its mother's darling, and bring it up in such a way, that it may look down with scorn and contempt upon a mother who will thus abandon her own child.

D. B. C. Bayless, Supt. Morgan County Poor Farm June 10.

Editor Bailey noted: The little foundling was clothed in dirty, ragged garments of the poorest description. The supposition is that the parents of the helpless little stranger are of respectable standing, and that the infant was wrapped in wretched habiliments to evade suspicion, the clothing in which the child was enveloped was such as even the poorest family in the city would not be likely to use for such a purpose.

SMOKE FROM THE SOUTH
It was in June, 100 years ago, that many people of Illinois claimed they smelled powder smoke when the wind was from the south.

Many helpless folks with poor smellers couldn't detect anything different with the air—just as it was a few years ago when many people could see flying saucers in the sky and their lesser compatriots couldn't see a thing.

Some of the best posted, best educated, persons in Illinois definitely scented the odor and charged it to the "volcanic discharge of nitre."

Also in June 100 years ago, some of the older folks began noticing that the weather was "unseasonable." The savants of 1862 said it was "doubtless due to the discharge of the giant cannon in this unfortunate exchange of arms."

Now, I'm not sure, but I think there has been a whole of a difference in the weather ever since they cracked off that first atom bomb.

Again, maybe I'm just getting older.

The first annual dinner of the Morgan County Big Brothers and Sisters Association was held Thursday evening at 6:30 at the Blackhawk Restaurant with a large group of interested members and friends present. Darrow Steinheimer, president, presided and extended greetings.

Mr. Steinheimer said he felt with the interest of the city and county officials and laymen in the community, evidenced by the attendance at the annual meeting, prospects for realizing aims of the organization for 1962-63 were bright.

One of the current projects, he pointed out, is a planned bus tour during the summer to visit the work camp at New Salem and the schools for girls and boys at Joliet and St. Charles. During the next week, a group will be meeting to map out a definite outline for laymen to follow in acting as Big Brothers or Big Sisters. Mr. Steinheimer explained the counseling idea of such volunteer help may have received undue attention. The main idea for the layman to follow is to provide companionship for boys and girls. He emphasized the fact that this organization, as well as many others, is vitally interested in working on the problem of drop-outs in school.

Mr. Steinheimer introduced George W. Withey, Superintendent of the Division of Community Services of the Illinois Youth Commission, who presented service awards on behalf of the Big Brothers and Sisters Association. Captain Wilbur Stafford of the local police force was recognized for his outstanding accomplishments with the youth in the community. Paul Wahl was recognized for his work as a Big Brother during this past year when he maintained his interest and effectiveness in the face of discouragement and setbacks. Darrow Steinheimer was recognized for his past service in many community groups in the interest of youth and particularly for being the driving force in the organization of the Morgan County Big Brothers and Sisters Association.

The speaker for the evening, John A. Troike, Chairman of the Illinois Youth Commission, opened his talk by paying tribute to the "doers" who had received service awards. He explained these were the people who get the job done. Mr. Troike said he had worked for 30 years in Boy Scout work with what would be called the "average" boy. A year ago when he assumed his duties as chairman of the Youth Commission, he became acquainted with the group we label as "those who get in trouble." He pointed out the extreme need for preventive help by quoting one of the boys at St. Charles with whom he first talked who asked, "What are you worrying about me for? Why didn't somebody think of me when I got in trouble the first time?"

He emphasized the need for giving boys in trouble one more chance and going the extra mile with them, trying one more time. One boy who had run away from seven of the work camps was given another chance and something "clicked" for him the eighth time. He is now happily married and frequently discusses his experiences with the boys in work camps.

Mr. Troike gave tribute to his own father who never finished elementary school. The family lived back of the Chicago Stockyards in a tough neighborhood and plenty of the boys got in trouble. The Troike home was open to them when the boys returned and they were given something to do, warmth and friendship, and a worth-while adult to know.

In volunteer organizations, like the Big Brother and Sister Association, Mr. Troike said, the layman has the opportunity to help boys and girls, and if we do not lend this helping hand to these in trouble, we may be endangering our very America. "Whether the boys and girls belong to the 97% that are labeled 'pretty good' or the 3% who have been in trouble, they are still our young America. It is the youth of all kinds we must work with."

The meeting was adjourned until next month on July 2nd at Hamilton's Cafe.

Cards Hand Skidding Giants Fourth In Row

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ray Sadecki moved from the doghouse to the throne room Saturday as he hit his first major league home run and pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to their fifth straight victory 8-4 over the skidding San Francisco Giants.

Sadecki had been fined $250 and strongly censured by Manager Johnny Keane after Tuesday's game with the Reds for what the manager termed "the worst exhibition of effort I've ever seen on a major league diamond." He was suspended for failing to show up for the next game, then was reinstated.

The 21-year-old St. Louis southpaw had to do it the hard way

Cottier's Homer In 10th Inning Gives Solons Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chuck Cottier blasted a home run into the Senators' bullpen in the bottom of the 10th Saturday to give Washington a 4-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers in the third straight thriller between these two teams.

Cottier, goat of Detroit's victory Friday night, doubled as lead-off batter in the ninth and scored the tying run on John Schaefer's single.

Marty Kutyna, the winner in relief, opened the 10th with a single, but was forced at second by Chuck Hinton. Cottier picked up Jerry Casale's second pitch and hit his second home run of the season.

Hank Aguirre of the Tigers and the Senators' Tom Cheney both pitched three-hit ball for eight innings. The Tigers scored their only runs on Cheney's wild pitches.

Cheney's first wild pitch followed singles by Jake Wood and Billy Bruton in the sixth.

The Tigers scored their second run without a hit in the eighth. Cheney walked Dick Brown, and after Aguirre sacrificed, Cheney walked Wood. The runner moved on Bruton's tap back to the mound. And again with Cash batting, Cheney uncorked a wild pitch, Brown scoring.

Says Record Run In Two Mile Was Planned Long Ago

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jim Beatty's record 2-mile run Friday night was planned three months ago, his coach, Mihaly Igloi, said Saturday.

When Beatty crossed the finish line in 8 minutes 29.8 seconds during the Southern Pacific AAU meet, he ran almost exactly in the time Igloi had charted.

"I knew last March what Jim could do," Igloi said as Beatty worked out early Saturday. "All of his training since then was aimed at last night's meet."

Igloi, a Hungarian refugee who coaches the distance runners for the Los Angeles Track Club, displayed a graph in which he had charted Beatty's time by quarters. Beside it was Beatty's actual performance Friday night.

It showed that at the mile mark Beatty was a little more than four seconds off schedule. Then he gradually made up almost all of the time.

The best previous time of 8:30.0 was set by Murray Halberg of New Zealand last year in Sweden, but the time has not been recognized.

Next event on Beatty's schedule is a mile run in the National AAU meet June 22-23 in Walnut, Calif.

Pair Leads Thunderbird Classic

Jack Nicklaus, Dow Finsterwald Shoot Hot Round

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, with a phenomenal 7-under-par 65, and Don Finsterwald, with a 67, shot into the lead in the $100,000 Golf Classic with 207 Saturday as Sam Snead and Arnold Palmer continued in his honor.

The 50-year-old Snead, who carried a two-stroke lead into the third round, skidded to a 78 over the par 72 Upper Montclair course and fell seven strokes off the pace at 214.

Meanwhile, Palmer, the Masters' champion and leading money winner, for the third straight day failed to break par. He shot a scrambling 72 for 219 and asked permission to withdraw.

"I'd like to go home and try to get in shape for the Open," he said, referring to the big championship starting Thursday at Oakmont, Pa. When the officials urged that he remain in the tournament, Palmer complied.

It looked like a cavalry charge finish for the final round Sunday in the mad scramble for the $25,000 first prize biggest plum on the tour.

In second place, a stroke back of Nicklaus and Finsterwald, was Gene Littler, the reigning Open champion, with 208 after a third round 70.

Three were tied at 209 — Paul Harvey, with 69; Wes Ellis, 70; and Butch Baird, a dark horse from Galveston, Tex., who plunked into the picture with a 68. Baird is a 25-year-old former Lamar Tech student who turned pro in 1959.

Fred Hawkins and Frank Boynton were tied at 210, followed by Jack Burke Jr. at 211.

Milwaukee Takes First Double Win Over Pittsburgh

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves swept their first doubleheader in nearly a year and handed slumping Pittsburgh its third twin defeat within a week by defeating the Pirates 4-3 and 5-3 Saturday on the hitting of Mack Jones and the pitching of Bob Shaw and Tony Cloninger.

Jones drove in three runs with a bases-loaded walk, a 420-foot homer and a decisive run-scoring single in the eighth inning of the first game, and then belted his eighth homer and collected a double, paving the way for two more runs in the nightcap.

Shaw, a right-handed veteran obtained from Kansas City in a winter deal, surrendered 11 hits, but went the distance for his seventh victory against two defeats. He struck out eight and walked only one.

Cloninger, a 21-year-old right-hander making his second start, dazzled the Pirates with a blazing fast ball as he evened his record at 1-1 in the second game. Cloninger struck out ten and walked just one before he weakened in the eighth and needed help from Don Noutebart.

The doubleheader sweep was the Braves' first since they defeated the Pirates twice in Pittsburgh, 11-4 and 5-4, last July 23.

Jaipur Wins Belmont In Blistering Finish

By JOHN CHANDLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Favored Jaipur yoked out Admiral's Voyage right on the wire Saturday in a blistering finish of the $153,300 Belmont Stakes and brought realization to the life-long dreams of his owner, George D. Widener.

It was perhaps the most wide open of all Belmonts run since the gruelling event for 3-year-olds was inaugurated in 1867 at old Jerome Park in the Bronx.

Fred W. Hooper's Admiral's Voyage led most of the way in the 1 1/2-mile race but couldn't hold off Jaipur and Jockey Willie Shoemaker in one breath-taking instant at the finish.

Admiral's Voyage, the colt who was supposed to travel the long route of the race, got second place by 1 1/2 lengths over Crimson Satan, entry of two colts in 1944, but his previous showing was three second places.

This was the third Belmont for Shoemaker, the 31-year-old native of Fabens, Tex., who won with Gallant Man in 1957 and Sword Dancer two years later.

Jaipur, a dark bay son of Nasrullah-Rare Perfume, by Eight Thirty, returned $770, $440 and $340, as the longest-priced Belmont favorite since par-nutlets came to New York in 1940, Admiral's Voyage returned $740 and $520, while Crimson Satan paid $370 to show.

Jaipur, who had won the $130,700 Jersey Derby May 30 at Garden State Park on a disqualification of Crimson Satan, collected $109,550 for the biggest prize in Belmont's history.

The winning time was 2:28 4/5.

U.S. Open Second Step In Slam

Palmer In Climb For Golf Crown

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP) — Arnold Palmer tries to take the second step in a four-step climb to the pinnacle of professional golf this week in the 62nd U.S. Open championship at the sand-pocked Oakmont Country Club course he knows almost like his back yard.

The muscular power-man from neighboring Latrobe, Pa., looks to the Open as part two of the goal he set for himself — the grand slam of the Masters, U.S. and British Opens and the U.S. PGA Tourneys, all in one year.

Palmer came close in 1960, winning the Masters and the Open before slipping to second in the British classic and to seventh in the PGA. With the 1962 Masters title already achieved, the 32-year-old strong boy seems in an even better position to accomplish what experts consider to be a sweep tougher than Bobby Jones' slam of the U.S. and British Amateurs and the U.S. and British Open in 1930.

A select field of 150, all but 19 selected in double qualifying tests from coast-to-coast, will begin their assault on the 6,804-yard par 35-36-71 course before the dew is off the grass next Thursday morning. Another 18-hole round Friday and the stamina-proving 36 holes on Saturday will complete the 72-hole test for America's most important golf prize. In event of a tie, there'll be a playoff on Sunday.

Palmer, along with defending champion Gene Littler and South Africa's Gary Player, was among 19 players who drew a pass into the championship.

Yogi Crashes Homer In Yankee Comeback

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra, appearing in his 2,000th game in a pinch hitter's role, crashed a three-run homer to climax a five-inning rally by the New York Yankees for a 7-3 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles Saturday.

It was the fifth straight victory for the Yankees, whose scoreless pitching was snapped at 28 2/3 consecutive innings when the Orioles broke through with a run in the first inning. Prior to Saturday's game, Ralph Terry, Bill Tresh.

Army Pvt. Steve Barber, on a 25-day furlough, enjoyed a 2-0 lead until the Yankees erupted in the seventh. Singles by Johnny Temple and Russ Snyder followed by Brooks Robinson's sacrifice flyer's second pitcher, Bryan Stock, accounted for the first Oriole run. Baltimore made it 2-0 in the third on Snyder's homer, his fifth of the season.

Indians Unleash Big-Gun Attack For 14-10 Victory

BOSTON (AP) — Cleveland unloaded a big-gun attack featuring Willie Kirkland and Tito Francona, then hung on for a 14-10 victory over the riddled Boston Red Sox Saturday.

Kirkland, hitting 203 at game time, smashed a three-run homer, two singles, walked twice and drove in four tallies. Francona had a homer, triple and single, scored three times and had two RBIs.

Both helped old Sox nemesis Pedro Ramos to his 23rd lifetime verdict over Boston against 14 losses, though he needed late relief.

The Red Sox learned second baseman Chuck Schilling will be out a month with a hairline fracture of the left hand, sustained Friday night, only moments before center fielder Gary Geyer suffered a concussion crashing into the wall.

Geyer was carried out on a stretcher and hospitalized after he rammed the barrier attempting to make a leaping catch of Francona's triple on the first play of the game.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The big excitement in Wall Street, calmed down last week and stock market experts hoped for—and some predicted—a settling-down process that might last for weeks or months.

The consensus was that only by such a stabilization could genuine values in stocks be judged once more on their merits rather than in emotion.

In the past week stocks took another "Bull Monday" jolt, about half as blue as the preceding Monday, when the market executed its worst dive since 1929. After some easesing Tuesday, the flat went into gear for a vigorous advance Wednesday which recovered about half of Monday's losses.

The final two days brought a great decrease in trading and, on balance, a slight softening in prices. The dullness was a great relief to many in the Street.

The biggest news of the week was President Kennedy's pledge to ask Congress for an across-the-board tax cut effective next Jan. 1. The market showed little response to this, however, because Monday Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon had said substantially the same thing. The fact that it would take effect—if adopted by Congress—next year rather than this removed some of the punch, so far as the market was concerned.

In general, Street observers felt that nothing much had changed in the market background. True, stock prices had been brought down considerably in relation to corporation profits, but conservatively, they still might be considered on the high side.

The Dow Jones industrial average this week dropped 9.44 to 601.81.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 3.60 at 221.80.

The pace of trading dwindled tremendously. Volume was only 21,041,000 shares, compared with 40,563,230 in the preceding week, which had only four trading days, due to the Memorial Day holiday.

Uncertain, uneasy and unsettled were the three adjectives applied most often to the market.

Despite this shaky atmosphere, U.S. government bonds managed to have gains. Corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange made little headway.

Corporate volume on the Exchange tumbled from a 17-year peak the previous week but was still the second best of the year. Volume totaled $41,778,000, compared with $55,510,000 the previous week.

Evangelist Says Christian Faith Can Change Life

CHICAGO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham said Saturday night the Christian rebirth is an act of faith that can transform a person's life.

"Many people insist on coming into the Kingdom of God head first, instead of heart first," Dr. Graham told a huge audience gathered at McCormick Place, lakefront exposition hall, for the 11th evening of his Chicago crusade. "They insist on being convinced before they are converted," he said.

Dr. Graham said he did not distrust honest inquiry into Christianity, but added: "I have found that usually when a man writes a question mark over all Christ has said, it is a means of dodging the truth rather than an honest attempt to discover the truth."

The evangelist said some people "want religion in the framework of textbooks and test tubes." But life is filled with examples of intangible—but real—things that cannot be analyzed.

"All life there is an element of mystery," Graham said. "In the Bible, all answers are not printed at the back of the book as they are in some grade-school arithmetic books."

"All life is a series of rebirths and awakenings. Nature is filled with examples of new birth. The lowly caterpillar whose chief fame is that a tractor is named for him—his lot seems empty and useless—then threatened by man, beast and fowl. But one day he climbs into a tree and nature throws a fiber rope around him. And out of that cocoon emerges a beautiful, resplendent creature. This example tells us that man can change."

Man needs a rebirth, Dr. Graham told his audience. His nature must be changed and redirected.

Dr. Graham said man turned away from God by his own choice and "he must by deliberate choice come back to God."

"God has done all that needs to be done as far as the technical part of the transaction is concerned," Dr. Graham said. "But there is one thing He cannot touch—that is your will. He cannot force you to accept the light which he holds out to you."

FLURRIES FAIL TO AID GRAIN FUTURES

CHICAGO (AP)—A few scattered flurries of buying failed to pull the grain futures market out of its bearish trend last week and prices continued their general downward trend on the Board of Trade.

Corn, under stiffest pressure, slipped almost 4 cents a bushel on the July delivery and about 3 cents on others. Except for a relatively meager demand by export and other commercial interests, buyers were virtually nonexistent in that pit.

Wheat closed 3-7/8 cents a bushel lower than a week ago, July $2.14 1/4, corn 2 1/4-3/4 lower, July $1.15 1/4, oats 1/4-1/2 lower, July $1.15 1/4, soybeans 1/2-3/4 lower, July $1.32 1/4, soybeans 1/2-3/4 lower, July $1.32 1/4.

Graham Captures Gangs' Attention In South Side

CHICAGO (AP)—Peace reigned Saturday as members of rival juvenile gangs listened to evangelist Billy Graham speak at the South Side Christian Center in a Negro section.

Graham told the gathering, "Being a square takes guts after making a decision for God. I've tried it and it did change my life. For it gave me a power and a purpose for living."

More than 100 boys in varied attire, some with baggy slacks, denoting their gang loyalty, packed the small hall.

Graham told the teen-agers about his youth and said he did things they have done. As a youth all he thought about was dating, driving hot rods and playing baseball.

The evangelist said he once remarked that if he had to attend a certain religious meeting, he might punch the minister in the nose. Graham's religious parents compelled him to attend, he said, but he sat in the back row and hid behind a woman who was wearing a big hat.

"The Bible says life is inside the body," Graham told the youths. "It is the soul, and even after you die it lives on for thousands of years."

Graham repeated a conversation with heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, who said God had changed his life.

"You could start something to change Chicago, right here," he told the gathering. "Just a handful of Communists took over Russia and only 12 disciples spread the teaching of Jesus Christ."

Although Christ was not violent, Graham said, he drove the money lenders out of the temple and died on the cross in a premeditated plot to relieve the world of sin.

"Reject God's offer of love, and sometime you will be slapped down," Graham declared. He related that a New York mobster attended one of his meetings and his life was changed. The man, Jim Voss, now spends all of his time working with youth, he said.

As Graham ended his address, he invited the group to attend the evening's meeting.

When the boys piled out of the hall one said, "That Billy Graham, he's all right."

KILLED IN STUDENT RIOT

Were Calm In Outward Semblance

It seems likely also that participants in the May 29 meeting at least reviewed the government's emergency powers to temporarily close stock exchanges and bar the redemption of mutual fund shares. These steps may be taken by the Securities and Exchange Commission with the President's approval.

There is no evidence to indicate that immediate action to either move was given serious consideration.

The administration's first public reaction to the events of Black Monday came at midday from Chairman Walter W. Heller of the Council of Economic Advisors. He told a luncheon audience that nothing in the economy justified the selloff.

And the President, deeply disturbed by the historic tumble, thought the simplest way to restore market confidence might be to ease margin requirements to permit the purchase of stock with a downpayment of 50 per cent rather than 70 per cent.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon agreed.

During the evening, Dillon made a series of telephone calls to Martin, whose reserve board has jurisdiction over margin levels.

The reserve board chairman, a former president of the New York Stock Exchange, threw cold water on the suggestion. Martin said lower margins would have no effect on those who already had bought stock on credit. Thus, lower margins could not be used to rescue investors facing margin calls—demands for more collateral—on current holdings.

E. J. Yochum of Kilgore, temporary chairman of the group, said "we are highly incensed at the 'police methods' being used by some state officials in attempts to obtain evidence."

But there were also many producers. Commission Chairman W. J. Murray said, who indicated they would not cooperate.

More than 30 east Texas wells have had pipeline connections severed, he said, because operators would not let the commission survey the well.

About 50 Texas Rangers and highway patrolmen are standing duty around the clock to prevent wells from being "junked"—obstacles put in the well hole—before the surveys can be made.

Still, Wilson said Tuesday one well scheduled for survey had been "junked" and the survey could not be made.

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Welterweight Teddy Wright of Detroit completed his mastery over the fighting Moyer family of Portland, Ore., Saturday night by winning an upset, split 10-round decision over midweight contender Denno Moyer at Madison Square Garden.

Wright, a 135 underdog, weighed 153 1/2 to Moyer's 159.

It was the third victory in 35 days for Wright, who outpointed Phil Moyer in the Garden two weeks ago.

Saturday night's televised 10-rounder was a brisk battle all the way. The verdict was greeted by a mixture of boos and cheers.

Referee Art Mercante and Judge Tony Castellano each had Wright ahead 5-4-1 in rounds. Judge Joe Agnello had Moyer in front, 6-4. The Associated Press card had Moyer ahead, 6-4.

Probers Say Oil Worth Millions May Be Pirated

Some industry sources estimated privately that $10 million was pumped through slant-hole wells in 1961 alone.

Late this week, a Dallas newspaper estimated that theft of oil by illegal drilling operations may amount to $8 million a month.

Another published report said 200 to 300 leases were involved and as many as 1,000 wells in the field could be involved.

This week, about 80 independent oil-producers in the field formed an organization to give "the other side of the story" of the well deviation controversy.

WAVE OF ARRESTS REPORTED IN SPAIN

But they said one priest was held under what amounted to house arrest at a monastery in nearby Escorial under orders of church officials. They said this priest has been summoned to Madrid for a hearing before high churchmen on complaints that he was among strike agitators in Barcelona. They refused to give his name.

Government sources said the decree restricting movements of Spaniards was aimed not only at halting the movements of opposition factions, including Gil Robles, a Madrid lawyer and politician identified as head of the Christian Democrat movement.

They said the decree was provoked by a reported meeting in Munich on June 5 and 6 at which Robles and Rodolfo Lopez, secretary-general in exile of the Socialist Workers' party of Spain, sought to influence the Association for European Union to declare against Franco.

The Falangist organ Arriba headlined its agency report of the Munich meeting "treason and stupidity are allied in a dirty union against Spain."

Surprisingly, the Spanish censorship permitted Madrid newspapers to publish a detailed account of the reported meeting, including the names of Spaniards participating.

U.S. WARNS RUSSIA ON BORDER GUNPLAY

anti-Communist provocations along West Berlin's border.

The Soviet Union declared in a note it would not permit West Berlin to continue as a base for "revengist and militaristic circles," and may take measures to assist its East German ally.

Allied officials were reluctant to consider Watson's letter a direct reply to the Soviet note. Such a reply must come from the government to which the Kremlin note was directed, officials said.

But, in effect, Watson's letter to Soloviev rejected the idea that the recent border shootings were Western provocations, as Moscow claimed.

Fined $100 For Assaulting Cass
County Sheriff

VIRGINIA—Robert Swan of Beardstown pleaded guilty to criminal assault in Cass County Court. He had been charged in an information filed by State's Attorney Richard Mills with assaulting Cass County Sheriff Howard J. Osmer on May 19.

At the time of the assault, Swan, 48, of Beardstown, was in the company of Sheriff Osmer, who was on duty at the time of the assault.

Swan was fined $100 plus court costs and informed he would automatically lose his driver's license.

A motion for new trial was argued before the County Court in the case of the People vs. Lee V. Anderson. The motion was made by Attorney Albert Schimmel of Pittsfield and the State's Attorney argued for the People.

Justice Reither held for the State and denied the motion. He granted a 30 day stay of sentencing to give Anderson opportunity to appeal.

Anderson had been found guilty of assault and battery by a County Court Jury on May 14.

THE BIG CHANGE . . . . . FARMERS INTERIOR

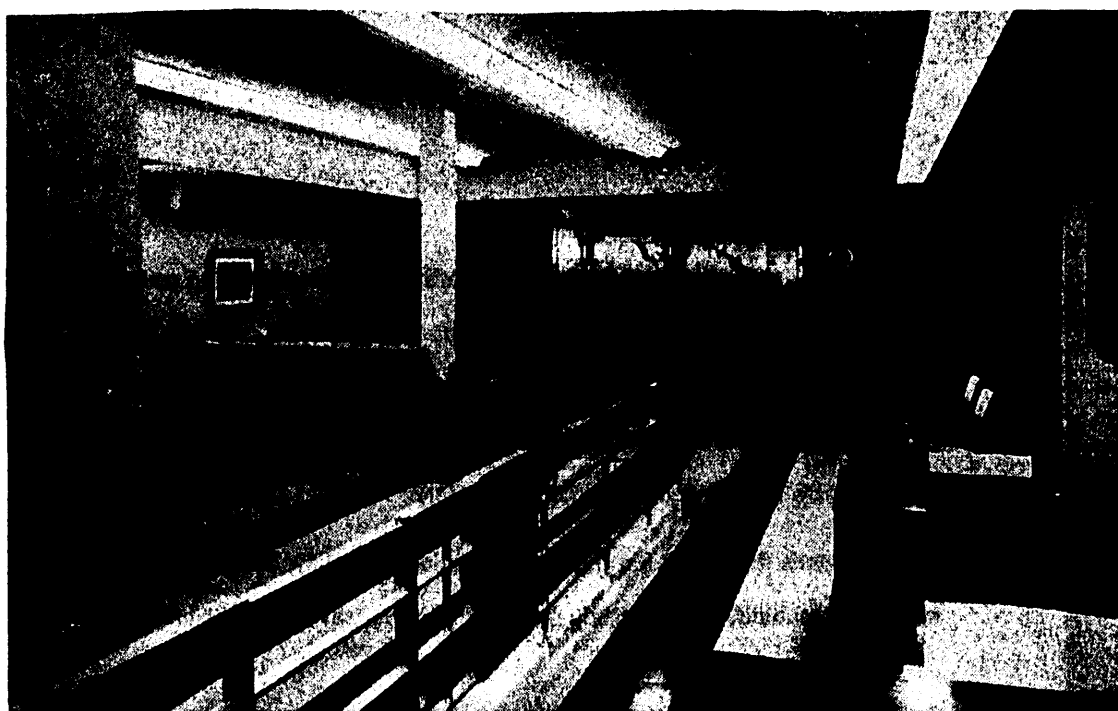

Each of our three floors has changed completely. Planning has increased the useable floor space considerably; in fact, over 30% has been gained for the bank. By lowering the ceiling on the main floor, an entire new second floor, or mezzanine, has been created. The removal of the large staircase from the main floor to the lower level has given added space to each of these floors. The new automatic elevator located in the vestibule provides quick transportation between floors.

This view greets you upon entering from our new State Street entrance. The Receptionist-Stenographer's Desk is in the foreground. The Assistant Cashier's and Cashier's, and President's office spaces and conference rooms are in the carpeted floor background.

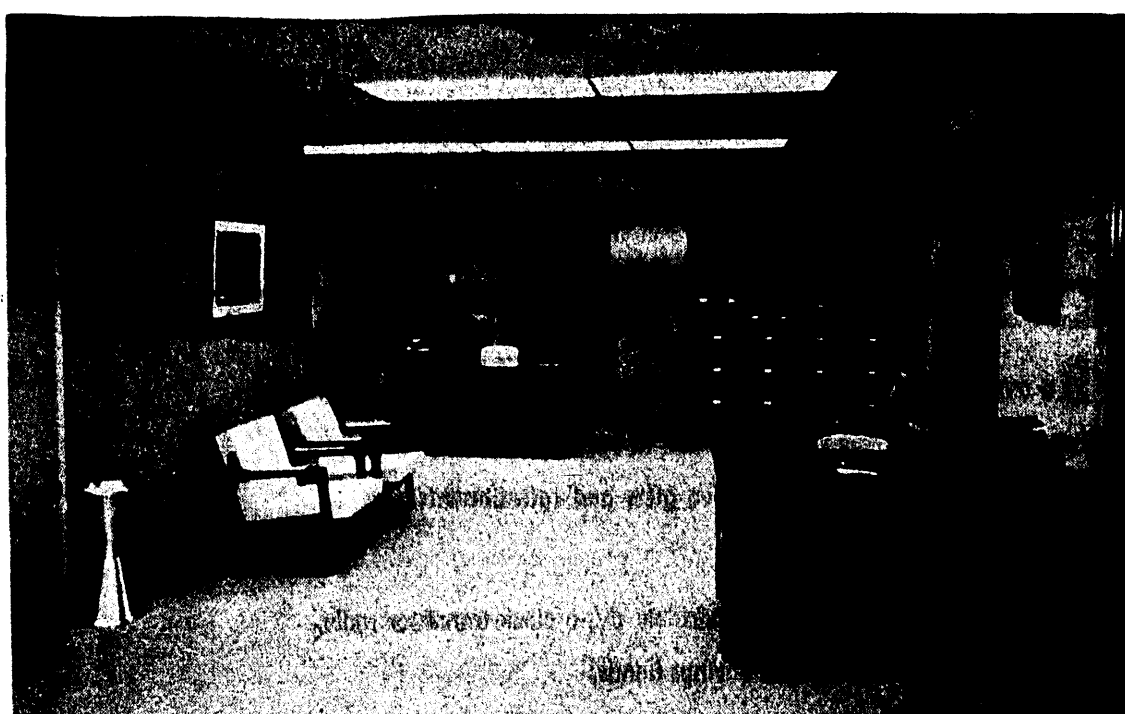

As you enter from the Farmers Building entrance, to the left is the Savings Department, Tellers' Booths, and Notes and Drafts Department. On the right is the New Accounts section. The floor is terrazzo and the teller stations are walnut.

The lower level, looking toward the vault, and Safe Deposit Department. A new conference room and coupon booths are to the left. The floor is brown and cream vinyl tile. Soft light from the recessed ceiling fixtures add warmth and invitingness to the lower level.

Upon leaving the elevator on the lower level, you may enter the inviting new Installment Credit Department, which includes two customer conference rooms, the office of the Installment Manager, and private offices for the two secretaries.

The new second floor where the Trust Department is now located. The trust officers have two private offices. In addition, there is an office for the Form Manager. Sculptured beige carpet and acoustical tile ceiling insure pleasant quietness to the area.

The Board of Directors Room also located on the new second floor. The furniture is Danish modern, made of walnut, and leather upholstered chairs in harmonizing colors. The lighting is recessed in ceiling and is shadow-free.

Alexander Unit Prepares Meal As Lesson Topic

The Alexander Homemakers Extension Unit met Tuesday, June 5, at 10 o'clock at the Alexander Community Building. Twelve members were present and answered roll call with a current event.

Mrs. Byron Strawn was leader for the major lesson, "Outdoor Meals, Unit II," and assisted members in preparing the noonday meal. The menu was barbecued chicken, scalloped potatoes, cole slaw, and banana boats and all agreed it was a very delicious meal.

Mrs. Don Johnson, chairman, presided at a short business meeting. Highlights of the April and May Board meetings were read by the secretary, Mrs. Reece Kern. Mrs. F. A. Johnson, 4-H chairman, gave a report and plans were made for the July meeting with the 4-H Club Girls. Mrs. Reed Stevenson will be chairman of the event and Mrs. Verne Bergschneider will assist her.

Mrs. Raymond Duerwer gave the selected subject "Music Appreciation." The next meeting will be held on July 10 at the Catholic church basement in Alexander when the 4-H girls and their mothers will be guests of the Unit.

WINDJAMMER LAUNCHED
SOUTH BRISTOL, Maine (AP)—For a century or more, Maine's coastal villages received and shipped their freight in bluff-bowed, two masted schooners called "coasters."

But with the advent of the macadam road and trucks, the white sails of the coasting schooners disappeared from the "down east" harbors.

A mere handful have survived. They carry vacationers, rather than goods and chattels. And they're so old their cruising, for safety's sake, is confined to sheltered waters such as Penobscot Bay.

But windjammer cruises still are popular with city people. So Capt. Havilah Hawkins of Sedgwick had a new one built—the first to be launched in 30 years.

Harvey Gamage built the 83-foot "Mary Day" at his South Bristol yard. Mrs. Hawkins christened the stubby little hull, and it slipped down the ways in a snowstorm.

Bonnie Shook Exchanges Vows With William F. Markword

Among the beautiful home weddings of early June was that of Miss Bonnie Kay Shook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Shook of 215 Webster Avenue. The Rev. Jack Thompson performed the double ring ceremony, by candlelight, with the bride's father giving her in marriage to William F. Markword, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Markword of this city. The bride was beautiful as she descended the ribbon-trimmed stair case to the music of the wedding march, preceded by her sister and matron of honor, Mrs. Delbert F. Bireline, of this city. The groom chose his cousin, the Rev. Robert Goldsborough, of St. James, Illinois, for best man. The bride and groom solemnized their vows before the fireplace mantel in the living room, which was decorated with silver candelabra, greenery, and white shasta daisies and gladioli. Members of the families received guests during the reception, immediately following the ceremony. Assisting with the serving were Miss Carolyn Embody, Miss Linda Thompson and Miss Sandra Walker, all of Jacksonville.

The lovely bride wore a gown of white silk organza and charmingly lace over peau de soie. Illusion veiling fell finger-tip length from a jeweled crown of rhinestones. She carried her lace-covered Rainbow Bible, topped with pink sweetheart roses.

The matron of honor wore a waltz length gown of white organza, with daisy trim, and carried a daisy nosegay. Mrs. Shook chose for her daughter's wedding a beige lace dress worn with a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Markword, mother of the groom, wore a royal blue lace. Her flowers were also white carnations.

The newlyweds left for a wedding trip to California. The couple will be residing in Adin, California, where the bridegroom is employed by the United States Forest Service.

Mrs. Markword graduated, as did her husband, from Jacksonville High School. Mr. Markword also attended the University of Southern Illinois.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Webster of Burlington, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Markword of Quincy, Illinois; the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Goldsborough of St. James, Illinois; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Carver, the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Carver, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Carver and Mr. and Mrs. Alva G. Cook, all of Peoria, Illinois.

Editorial Comment

Formula For The Future

Historians, no less than physical scientists, are fond of devising theoretical frames on which to hang the facts of the past and present in order to predict the future.

Outstanding examples are Oswald Spengler and Arnold Toynbee. The first compared societies to living organisms which go through cycles of youth, flourishing maturity and inevitable old age. The other originated the "challenge and response" formula to explain the growth and decay of cultures.

A third recent over-all view of history is that of Lancelot Law Whyte, who straddles both science and history. The English physicist and philosopher disputes one of the main tenets of liberalistic faith—that history has been a progressive struggle toward greater human liberty. Rather, says Whyte, liberty has been a byproduct of something else.

He sees European history (of which American is a special case) as a shifting between "hierarchies of power," with individual freedom increasing at each stage.

The first hierarchy was that of organized religion. Religious freedom only became possible at the Reformation because the growth of centralized nation-states displaced religious power.

In turn, political equality came in the 19th century when economic institutions and persons became the effective wielders of power in terms of the goals and interests of men.

"After each of these steps," says Whyte, "the European individual enjoyed a new realm of liberty in which he could choose his own way of life without threatening the established social order."

Now the world is ready for the next stage: "The shifting of the hierarchy into the hands of those possessing techniques for facilitating the general development of man."

These techniques would be scientific in the broadest sense, covering all fields of the human spectrum from sociology to pure mathematics. All knowledge would be applied to the betterment of humanity at large, crossing national boundaries, with special emphasis on raising the eastern half of the world to the level of the western.

Whyte tabs the United States as the leader of this stage.

Whether or not one agrees with the theory, it is an undeniable fact that the specialist is becoming more and more important in the decisions of the nation: economists, statisticians, physical scientists (especially in space research), population experts, conservationists, and so on and on.

Government today waits upon the opinion and advice of the technical expert. Unfortunately, his voice is most heeded only when it comes to matters of military importance. Perhaps the day is coming when science-government will be devoted solely to positive ends.

If it is, it is to be hoped that Whyte's thesis will be proved right—that mankind will enjoy another new realm of freedom.

LANDESS

By ANN LANDESS

Dear Ann Landers: I'd like to say a word to "Wee But Mighty"—the short lady who is sick and tired of hearing unkind and thoughtless remarks about her size. I'm a woman 5 feet tall in my nylons and I'd gladly change places with her. I've always been tall, even as a youngster, and I can't recall a single unkind remark from a woman. It's the men I'd like to strangle. Usually a 5 feet-4 inches, 130 pounder will come up with a tired line such as, "How's the weather up there?" Once a miserable little runt (an important executive) said "If you got on your knees we could dance."

Millions of people read your column every day, Ann. If you succeed in teaching those thoughtless individuals that it is unkind to make remarks about a person's height or weight you will have performed a useful service. —THE TALL ONE

Dear Ann Landers: About three years ago I read in your column that it is unwise for a girl to tell her fiancé all about her past. I wish I had taken your advice. Last August Henry and I were married. Two weeks before the wedding he begged me to tell him about every fellow I ever went with. At first I didn't say much, because I didn't want him to think I was cheap (I went with two fellows seriously before I met Henry). He promised not to hold anything against me and said if I really loved him I'd confess "all."

I finally caved in after several days of badgering. Now he throws up my past at least twice a week. No matter what we are arguing about he ends up reminding me that I was "pretty loose" before marriage.

Please print my letter and repeat your good advice. —BIG MOUTH

Dear Big Mouth: I remember the advice and it went something like this: If a girl has a baby out of wedlock or has served a jail sentence she should not keep such information from her fiancé. But she's a fool if she recites the names and numbers of all the players. It's none of his business.

A fellow who would nag a girl for such information will use it against her later.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a good man in many ways but he has caused me a lot of heartache lately.

Clyde works part-time for a widow in her 60's. He is an excellent gardener and she thinks there's no one like him. He goes over there after work and on Saturdays no matter how tired he is. I've asked him to give up this job because it isn't worth the money, but he refuses to quit her.

Clyde broke his leg a few weeks ago and was hospitalized. The day after he came home she visited him and stayed three hours. She hardly said one word to me. The following day she sent him a get-well card.

I was upset over all the attention she paid to him. Is this proper from a society woman to her gardener? He says I'm sick in the head but he still refuses to give up the job.

What do you think? —A WORRIED WIFE

Dear Wife: It's perfectly proper for a woman to visit her gardener at his home under the circumstances you described. I'd say she oversteered her visit by about two and a half hours but outside of that I see nothing wrong.

Confidential to NO WILL POWER: Sorry I can't go to Denver and police you. Why not clip some of these columns as reminders of what can happen to girls who don't use good judgment?

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for "Ann Landers' booklet, 'Help For The Alcoholic,' enclosing your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Plenty of Fuel In Economic Machine

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent,
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Strange behavior of the stock market again has raised questions of how good a barometer of general business conditions it really is.

One of the most amazing manifestations of the recent market break was that no one seemed to know why prices dropped so precipitously, but lots of experts were citing reasons why the market should not be misbehaving.

Thus Ladd Plumley, new president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, when asked at the National Press Club, "Should I sell my A.T.&T.?" could only reply, "I wish somebody else would answer that question so I could follow him to the brokers." It was no disgrace he didn't know.

Plumley made the speech that many have made before him to the tune of, "Business must have confidence" and, "What we need is to re-create an atmosphere of stability and growth." Nobody ever argues against those principles.

The day before the Plumley speech was made Dr. Walter W. Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, cited statistics on stability and growth of the economy since the end of the first quarter of 1961.

Gross national product is up $48 billion or 8 per cent. Labor income is up $29 billion or 10 per cent. Corporate profits are up $12.8 billion or 32 per cent. Industrial production is up 15 per cent. Payroll employment is up 1.8 million jobs. Unemployment is down 1 million or 20 per cent. This is not considered a declining economy.

But the key figures which contribute most to the image of stability are found in consumer expenditures. Dr. Heller says they have risen $21 billion in the last four quarters—$10 billion for services, $6 billion for nondurable goods, $5 billion for durables, mostly autos.

Consumer debt has risen only $1.5 billion and savings have risen over $30 billion. This is a lot of potential spending power, once it is turned loose.

Federal Reserve Board's new quarterly survey of consumer buying intentions gives some hints where some of this money may go. More consumers are reporting plans to buy automobiles, household durable goods and houses in the next three to six months than in any recent January-to-April quarter. In the past, consumer buying intentions have usually declined in this first quarter of the year.

National Consumer Finance Assn., a private research group, also reports that the 17 million senior citizens aren't behaving like grandpa and grandma used to. Their income has been built up by better private industry retirement plans and social security, plus generally higher pay during working years, resulting in higher retirement income.

These people spend for travel, hobbies and modern gadgets and appliances intended for younger families, resisting products developed for people over 65. The invasion of these people on the market place is assuming increasing economic importance.

Robert H. Myers, professor of marketing at Miami, Ohio, University, has just written a marketers' aid letter for Small Business Administration head, urging merchants to pitch their sales appeal at modern buying habits.

Today's consumers, Professor Myers points out, have more money, are better educated, have more refined tastes, demand better values and use credit more intelligently.

If all these factors cited above by eminent authorities are true, then the Great American Consumer market should provide a better business barometer than the ups and downs of a stock market fever chart.

'Temporary' Job Could Go on and on—

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Memo to June brides.

A lot of you will return from your honeymoon to a full-time job in addition to the job of making a home for your husband. The plan will probably be for you to work "a year or two."

That's how most young couples plan when they marry on the strength of the wife's being able to add her pay check to her husband's.

But unless you avoid the mistakes so often made by young couples—that "year or two" may stretch on and on.

The first mistake to avoid is to base your standard of living on two pay checks, without anything left over for a savings account. No matter how you have to scrimp or cut corners—put something aside each month for a nest egg. Without that cushion you will find it very difficult to ever stop working.

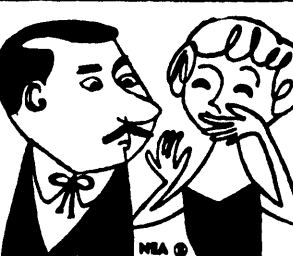

The second mistake is for you to start thinking of your husband's pay check as "our money" but your own as "my money." The wife who gets used to having her own money finds it mighty hard to give up her own pay check.

The third mistake is to let your husband get so used to the idea of two pay checks coming in regularly that he loses his drive and ambition to increase his own earnings. You can avoid this only by setting a date when you intend to quit working and mentioning it often enough so that he thinks of your job as only temporary.

There's nothing wrong with a young wife working for a "year or two" after marriage—just as long as she is aware that it is up to her to see that the year or two doesn't become "another year or two" and then another. Remember that—your working bride—or 10 or 15 years from now you will still be working wives.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has made it clear—at his first news conference since the shocking stock market dip May 28—that he is standing pat.

With one exception—a promise to ask Congress for an income tax cut for everyone but not effective before next year—he is offering no new proposals to juice up the economy.

This is the position he takes: 1. Stock market prices were too high anyway and figured to dip a bit.

2. The economy—although it could be better—is sound and should continue to improve.

3. He is not going to be stampeded into emergency actions. He is simply asking Congress to put through proposals he made before the stock market dive. He will make a new proposal on the income tax cut later.

4. He will insist—despite protests by some business leaders—that prices and wages be kept down to prevent inflation. It was his previous insistence on this that brought on the steel dispute.

At Thursday's news conference he rejected any thought of excited reaction to the stock market with this statement:

"I think most financial experts have realized for some time that an overpriced market could not hold up once investors recognized that inflation was ended."

This was a reminder that he had laid down his national anti-inflation policy last spring when he pressured the steel industry and the steel union into a settlement without wage or price boosts.

His purpose: To call a halt to the endless spiral of rising wages and prices.

Kennedy's optimism about steady improvement in the economy reflected the optimism of his own advisers whom he consulted in a special meeting the morning after the market plunged.

He said Thursday:

"While our recovery from last year's recession has been a good one, production, profits and employment are all time highs, and the prospects for continued economic expansion remain favorable."

"In view of corporate and consumer cash on hand, we should take every appropriate step to make certain that recovery is stronger and longer than before and is not cut short by a new recession."

Then he outlined the steps he wants to take to keep the economy sound. With one exception they were all proposals he had made before, some as long as a year ago, but which are still pending in Congress.

The exception was his promise to propose to Congress an income tax cut for everyone, but a cut which he does not want to be effective before Jan. 1. This means the cut would not affect the tax on income earned in 1962.

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—There's no doubting Mrs. Rachel Kline's story, for she's president of the Seventh Day Adventist Church. She says it happened this way.

Her brother-in-law had been gathering dried leaves to use as mulch. He came hurrying into the house—where she was visiting—to explain that he had found two young skunks under the leaves and one had his head caught in a small olive or pickle jar. Unwilling to take a chance, he quickly retreated.

Later that evening, says Mrs. Kline, they were watching television when they heard a peculiar noise at the front door. They opened the door, thinking it was the family cat. But there was the skunk, its head still in the bottle, knocking it against the door.

Taking the skunk by the bottle—but gently—Mrs. Kline's brother-in-law placed the bottle between the door and the door jamb. The startled skunk backed up, its head came out of the bottle, and it departed the scene.

Either out of fright or gratitude, it failed to leave a calling card.

Q—Do strawberries have any important food value?

A—Yes. They are a rich source of Vitamin C, like oranges and grapefruit. They contain other vitamins and minerals, too.

Q—What is the best way to keep strawberries in good condition?

A—Give them the gentle treatment. When you get them home, remove soft and spoiled berries. Store the others in a shallow storage tray in refrigerator. But "do not wash." Just before serving, wash berries without removing caps. Wash gently and quickly in cold water. After they are clean and nearly dry, then remove caps.

month have satisfactorily rounded things out. This May has been a busy month.

Bulls Out

This week the cattle crew has been busy making up the breeding herds. Some 450 Hereford cows have been sorted into about 15 different groups to go on 15 different pastures for the breeding season.

Putting the bulls in at this time will mean March calves next year. The bulls will be left with the herds for about nine weeks. This will mean that our calves will vary in age by about two months from youngest to oldest.

We find that having all calves dropped in a relatively short time is a tremendous advantage, and it can also be advantageous to other cattle producers. First, the entire cow herd can be wintered alike and together. Since all the cows are dry during the winter months, feed costs are less than for cows nursing calves. Second, the calves are weaned at one time and handled as a group rather than as several groups, as would be necessary when they vary widely in age. And, most important, especially to the commercial producer, prospective feeder buyers can be shown a larger package of uniform calves—calves of the same age and size. We think that this will make each calf sell for more.

Illinois Farmers Outlook Letter

THE FIRE IS ON THE ROOF

Why pour water in the basement when the fire is on the roof? We would not do that if we had a real fire. But we have been just as impractical in our efforts to raise farm income.

Farm income is what is left for the producer after all costs are paid. Farm income therefore can be raised by increasing the difference between prices of farm products and the costs of producing and marketing them.

Why be concerned about costs? Two reasons: First, we have worked on the price side for 30 years and have not had satisfactory results. Second, nearly 90 per cent of the money spent by consumers for farm products is absorbed by costs of marketing and production.

Prices of our farm products are strongly influenced by world-wide conditions. But costs-of marketing and production are largely "made in the U.S.A." Farmers suffer when U.S.-made costs get too high in relation to world-made prices.

Our prices are dependent upon world conditions because (1) we produce for foreign as well as domestic markets and (2) we maintain relatively open markets with little restrictions upon imports.

Neither of these conditions seems likely to be changed in the foreseeable future.

Heavy Export Business

In the latest fiscal year we exported 49 per cent of our wheat and cotton, 26 per cent of our soybeans and the oil from 14 per cent more. We also exported 56 per cent of our rice, 29 per cent of our tobacco and 16 per cent of the feed grains sold by farmers—$531 million worth. In all, we exported nearly $5 billion worth of farm products, while we imported over $3.7 billion.

Now look at costs: Of a dollar spent by U.S. consumers for food, 61 per cent is taken for marketing expenses, mostly for labor.

Of the 39 cents that gets back to the farmer, about 27 cents is paid out for production expenses, again largely labor costs. Only 12 cents of the consumer's food dollar is left for the farm family. And even the buying power of this 12 cents is continuously reduced by rising costs of supplies and services required by the farm family.

Other industries, too, are injured by excessive increases in costs. But agriculture suffers more than most because it is more dependent upon foreign markets and foreign competition.

Too High Here

There is strong evidence that the U. S. wage-cost structure is too high. The evidence is the flight of U. S. money and gold to foreign lands. Money, including gold, always goes to markets that have the best buys.

Many economists and public officials now recognize the general problem. Thus we have had government pressure for noninflationary wage contracts and price policies for steel and other industries. But as yet too few of our leaders recognize the effect of excessive rises in wages and costs on farm income.

For 30 years we have concentrated on raising prices—pouring water in the basement. The results have been unsatisfactory to farmers and the public—because our costs, the fire on the roof, have received too little attention. It is time to change our strategy.

A study of 38 central Illinois farms by the University of Illinois shows that a farmer could comply with the feed grain program for one year without reducing his net earnings. At the same time farmers who complied helped reduce surpluses by about 100 tons less corn per farm.

Research Says Haylage Can Be Stored Safely In Conventional Silo

URBANA — Enough research evidence is in to prove conclusively that farmers can store low-moisture silage or "haylage" in conventional upright silos.

University of Illinois dairy scientist Leo Fryman says the studies also show that dairy cows eat haylage readily and produce well on it. However, he believes the system should be recommended only to the careful operator.

U. of I. dairy scientists say reports from research workers and from dairymen who have had from one to three years of experience with low-moisture silage indicate that the following steps are necessary to produce a satisfactory feed:

1. Cut the forage in the early stages of growth. Alfalfa should be harvested in the bud or pre-bud stage. The early-cut material is highly digestible and will pack better than more mature forage.

2. Chop the crop short. About 1 inch cut is best. Keep knives on the forage cutter sharp. Use a hay conditioner to speed up drying time and to save leaves.

3. Dry the forage in the wind-row. Rake before the top leaves are fully dry, or windrow as you mow. It's also a good idea to haul the forage to the silo in a covered wagon to cut down leaf loss. Then fill the silo reasonably fast, without long delays.

4. Keep the material evenly distributed in the silo during filling. A mechanical distributor in the silo is helpful.

5. Seal silo doors and be sure there are no cracks in the wall. Coating the inside with a good silo surfacing material may help seal out air.

6. If silage feeding is not started within a day or so after filling, use a plastic cap to seal the top. Then chop a load or two of unwilted forage and blow it in on top of the plastic cap.

Fryman says there apparently is a time during drying when forage is quite difficult to cut and blow. An operator's best bet is to start chopping as soon as the material begins to chop easily. At this stage, the forage has about the right moisture content to make good low-moisture silage.

Research shows that losses may be high when low-moisture silage is stored in a bunker or trench silo.

There are about 133 physicians and 57 dentists per 100,000 persons in the U.S. population.

There are an estimated 2,150 languages in the world.

Sally Timmel, Oconomowoc, Wis.—The first MacMurray College graduate to join the Peace Corps—receives her diploma from President Gordon E. Michelson at Commencement Sunday.

On July 7 Miss Timmel will travel to Washington, D.C., where she and some 300 other new volunteers will take three months' intensive training in preparation for a new Peace Corps project in Ethiopia. They will then travel to the "Land of the Lion of Judah" to teach secondary school.

Ethiopia—an ancient African country bordering on the Red Sea—has recently launched an ambitious program of modernization and industrialization, and is simultaneously expanding the country's educational opportunities.

The need in education is acute. The Ethiopian Ministry of Education estimates there are about one million persons of high school age in the country, and only enough teachers for 6000—three fifths of one per cent of the total.

"Our purpose," stated Miss Timmel, "is not to force the American way of life upon others, for our way is certainly not the best way for all. Rather, we hope to help fill Ethiopia's educational gap, while participating in a sharing experience—exchanging ideas and experiences."

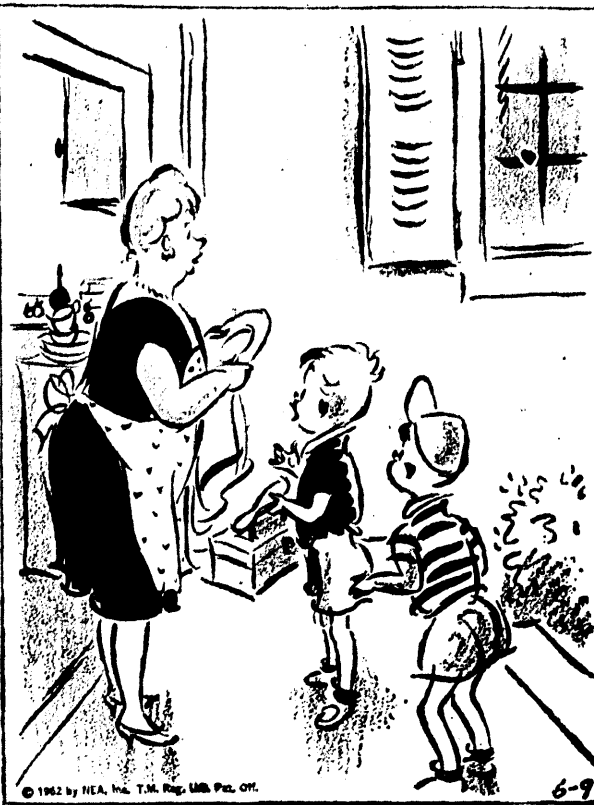

Miss Timmel, having previously participated in an American Lutheran Icelandic Work Camp and toured Europe for five weeks, feels that cross-cultural communication is imperative for harmonious international relations in today's shrinking world.

"I hope that upon my return from Ethiopia," she explained, "I will personally be a more concerned and informed American citizen, and that I will be able to help bring to many others a sense of international understanding by sharing my experiences with them."

Miss Timmel, a biology major at MacMurray, anticipates teaching biology and physical education in Ethiopia.

(AND SOME NEW ONES!)

CHECK YOUR WIRING....and keep the resale value of your property UP!

You may or may not be thinking of selling. But either way, the resale appeal of your home measures its real value as part of the family wealth.

And when the chips are down, too many otherwise fine homes—newer homes as well as old—are going for less than a fair price... often because of inadequate wiring.

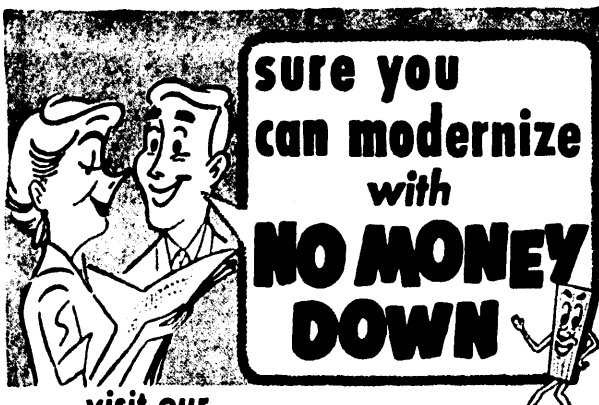

Perhaps an additional circuit or two is all that's needed to make your wiring modern. It's a sound investment in better living... and bigger resale value.

Banks and savings and loan organizations are glad to finance wiring improvement. Ask them.

Nona Arlene Cloyd

WINCHESTER—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cloyd, Alton Acres, Winchester, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nona Arlene, to James E. Carlson, son of the Roy Carlsons of Hazelwood, Missouri, and a grandson of Mrs. E. A. Schoedsack of Jacksonville.

Miss Cloyd attended Winchester High School and received her degree from MacMurray College with the class of 1962. She has accepted a position with the McDonnell Aircraft Corporation in St. Louis, Missouri.

Mr. Carlson served two years with the United States Marines, attended MacMurray College and is employed by McDonnell Aircraft Corporation.

The young couple plans a winter wedding in Jacksonville.

S. Jacksonville School Library Program Set

South Jacksonville School will begin its summer library program on Tuesday, June 12 at 9:30 a.m. Students from South Jacksonville school may check out books from 9:30-11:30.

This is the third year for the summer library program. Mr. Charles Biese, school librarian, volunteered two years ago to inaugurate such a program since South Jacksonville children do not have free access to the public library. The response was so gratifying that the South Jacksonville

PTA offered to sponsor it annually. Last summer over 1,000 books were circulated and approximately 200 children used the library.

Robert Adams, principal at South Jacksonville school, and teachers from the school have urged the children to take advantage of the opportunity to select books for summer reading. It is especially beneficial to children just learning to read since they can continue using and improving their reading skills.

An addition to the program this year will be a story hour, supervised by Mrs. Wm. Terry and Mrs. William Freeman. Under their direction, 6th grade students will read suitable books to South Jacksonville youngsters who have finished kindergarten or first grade. The story hour will be from 9:30 until 10:00 and only those ages specified will be admitted.

Included in the picture are two new residents of the city, Mrs. C. V. Applebee and her daughter, Celia, who were guests of their daughter and sister, Jill. The guests are recently arrived in Jacksonville from Cape-town, South Africa.

An impressive BPW Emblem Ceremony was presented under the direction of Rena Lantz, program chairman. In 1919, a group of representative women met in St. Louis to organize the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. An emblem was chosen, symbolic of the purpose of BPW clubs. Taking part in the ceremony was Lucille Chandler, vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Donald Wood, Roberta McNeely, Mildred Cruise, Mary Bennett, Anna K. Bradley, Lucille Schrader and Margaret Grunty. Gold keys were given to new members. The dinner tables were decorated with large gold keys and bouquets of roses, lilies and honeysuckle. Esther Barker and Margaret Fay Hopper will be delegates to the National BPW convention to be held in Los Angeles July 15-19.

The regular board meeting will be held Monday, June 18, at the home of Esther Barker. The annual picnic will be held July 5 at the home of Alice Applebee with the Finance Committee in charge of arrangements. The fall district meeting will be October 30 at the Blackhawk Restaurant.

Daytona 250 Set For Independence Day In Florida

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—The 1961 "Daytona 500" race winner, Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach, will team up with Glenn Wood of Stuart, Va. for the fourth annual "Daytona Firecracker 250" Grand National Classic scheduled for Independence Day, July 4, starting at 11 a.m.

Panch will drive the 1962 Ford owned and maintained by the "Woodchopper" from Virginia, a pretty good driver himself who prefers to leave the larger and faster trucks to Panch and the other daredevil performers.

Panch's entry strengthens the Ford ranks for the 250-mile Daytona race, an event which has escaped the Ford victory grasp for three years. In fact, the Fords are still seeking their first Daytona win in either the "Firecracker 250" or the "Daytona 500."

Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill. almost climbed aboard the victory wagon last July, but was nosed out at the finish of a sensational fast race by Dave Pearson of Spartanburg, S. C. in a 1961 Pontiac with an average speed of 154.294 miles per hour for a world stock car record.

Lorenzen and Nelson Stacy of Daytona Beach are already entered with a pair of 1962 Fords equipped with the new type tops and owned by Holman and Moody of Charlotte, N. C.

Pontiacs have dominated in the three July races to date with Fireball Roberts winning the first in 1959 with an average speed of 140.581 miles per hour; Jack Smith of Spartanburg the second in 1960 with an average speed of 146.842 miles per hour and then Pearson the 1961 event at 154.294 miles per hour.

In the four "Daytona 500" races, Lee Petty won the first with an Oldsmobile, Junior Johnson the second with a Chevrolet, Marvin Panch the third with a Pontiac and Fireball Roberts the 1962 race with another Pontiac. In these events the winning speeds have jumped from 135.321 miles per hour in 1959 to 152.529 in 1962.

Practice starts at Daytona June 28 with qualifying trials set for June 30 and four 25-mile qualifying races on tap for Sunday, July 1, to determine starting positions for the Independence Day race.

Bettors World's Two Mile Record

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Little Jim Beatty bettered the world 2-mile record Friday night with the sensational time of 8:29.8.

The record is 8:32.0 set by Alfred Thomas of Australia, Aug. 7, 1958, in Dublin, Ireland.

Beatty, returning to action after suffering three different leg injuries in recent weeks, ran the Southern Pacific AAU championships at Occidental College's Patterson Field.

Murray Halberg of Australia was timed in 8:30.0 in Sweden last year but the time has not been recognized.

Beatty, of the Los Angeles Track Club, ran the last lap in 59.8 as several thousand spectators cheered him on. His time bettered the American record of 8:40.8, set by Halberg at Palo Alto, Calif., Jan. 7, 1961.

The American citizens' record of 8:42.5 is held by Dyrrol Burleson of Oregon.

Jim Grelle, Beatty's teammate who was running the two miles for the first time in his career, finished second in 8:36.0 and Bob Schul also of the Los Angeles Track Club, was third in 8:57.3.

THREE OF A KIND . . . BUT RARE

Triplets for cows are about as rare as a royal flush to a poker player according to some authorities but it did happen south of Prentice to this cow owned by E. J. Mau of Ashland and the Moy Farms of Jacksonville Monday about noon. All three little calves are marked nearly alike and all are female. The whole family group seemed to be in the best of health when this photo was taken.

Asked about the ancestry of the cow, one of the farm operators said she was as common as an old shoe and didn't boast any particular breed or registry. Matter of fact, the owners had contemplated selling the cow because she is bob-tailed and without the usual fly-swatter that comes with most cows.

One of the calves is scheduled to return to the herd of stock cows but two grandchildren indicated to the photographer that they had already set their sights on the other two.

Essegian Finds Role Of Starter Just Fine

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Chuck Essegian has a ready answer whenever he's asked why after five years in the major leagues he suddenly has become one of the most dangerous hitters in the American League.

"For the first time since I've come up to the big leagues," said the slugging Cleveland outfielder just before leaving for Boston, "I've been given an opportunity to play regularly."

Since Manager Mel McGaha decided to give the dark-haired former ace fullback at Stanford a real shot at the left field job, 30-year-old Essegian has been one of the leading hitters in the league.

Although currently in the midst of a slight slump, he is still batting .338 with 13 home runs and 24 runs batted in. He leads the club in hitting, home runs and is second to John Romano in runs batted in.

Since he came into organized baseball in 1953, Essegian has played with 19 clubs, and never has been with the same club two full seasons in succession. His major league trail has carried him from Philadelphia to St. Louis to Los Angeles to Baltimore to Kansas City and finally to Cleveland. The Indians purchased him from the Athletics last May.

In the 1959 World Series, he hit two pinch-hit homers for the Dodgers but the next year, he was sold to the Orioles.

"I thought after what I did in the World Series, the Dodgers would give me an opportunity to play a little more. But it was just another in a series of many disappointments."

Western Illinois Captures NCAA Golf Tournament

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP)—Western Illinois captured the team title and Steve Spray of Eastern New Mexico won the individual crown Friday in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Golf Tournament.

Western Illinois, which failed to place a player among the top five individuals but had three in the first 10, had a team total of 300 Friday for a 72-hole low of 1,210 strokes.

That was six strokes better than the total carded by Texas Wesleyan, the runner-up.

Leading Western Illinois were Len Viocka with a 72-hole total of 300, Pete Cimballa with a 302 and Roy Barnhart with a 303.

Spray, who led throughout the tournament, fired a 73 on the last round for a total of 290.

Big Attendance At Alumni Fete In Chandlerville

CHANDLERVILLE—The annual Chandlerville Alumni banquet was held Friday evening at the gymnasium with a record crowd of 262 graduates present.

The banquet was served by members of the P.T.A. at 6:30 p.m.

The program included group singing led by Mary Ellen Armstrong and Thomas Carlock. The minutes were read by Linda Taylor McNeal and a treasurer's report by Paul Kirchner. Roll call by the secretary showed 52 classes represented.

Supt. T. O. McCullough introduced the class of 1962. Alumni president W. K. Armstrong gave the official welcome to the group.

Miss Dorothy Wilson, a former teacher and member of the alumni group, was the guest speaker for the evening. She is now teaching in Chicago.

Illinois Junior, Engineer Share Medalist Honors

CHICAGO (AP)—Joel Hirsch, 21, a University of Illinois junior, and Edwin Nelson, 31, an industrial engineer graduate of Lake Forest College, Thursday shared medal honors in 36-hole qualifying play for the National Public Links Golf championship.

Hirsch and Nelson shot 141's, one over par at White Pines Golf Club as 79 golfers competed for the six Chicago berths in the national meet in Tonawanda, N.Y., July 9-14.

Tied at 141 were Nello Campagni, North Chicago, bowling alley proprietor and Bob Ellis of Evanston, golf star at Oklahoma State.

The qualifiers: Joe Hirsch, Highland Park, 68-73-141; Edward Nelson, Zion, 69-72-141; Nello Campagni, North Chicago, 72-72-144; Bob Ellis, Evanston, 73-71-144; Cal Tanner, Chicago, 71-74-145; Tom Sisolak, Waukegan, 74-71-145.

A house warming and barbecue was given Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Smith and son Sunday evening at their new home on the Leo Finn farm south of Chandlerville. They moved there recently from Petersburg.

The Chandlerville Optimist Club held their regular meeting at the Congregational church.

Dick Pratt reported that the bowling team was in second place in the league. Donald Coordes gave a report on the convention held at Alton.

Elmer Lynn gave the program, showing slides and talks on agriculture.

A slate of officers will be installed at the June 28th meeting at the Lutheran church.

Receives Degree
At the 47th annual convocation of Southern Methodist University of Dallas, Texas, Robert McDonald, son of Mrs. Davidee McDonald of Chandlerville, was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Science in electrical engineering.

He has been employed by the Continental Electronics Mfg., Co. of Dallas and will be engaged in the design and manufacture of high power communications and radar equipment.

Robert is also a graduate of Chandlerville High school and Bradley University in Peoria.

CUBS OPTION ELDER WHITE FOR GRAMMAS

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs Friday optioned rookie shortstop Elder White to San Antonio to make room for veteran infielder Alex Grammas, who was obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals in a four-player trade in midweek.

Grammas, 35, reported to the Cubs before Chicago's doubleheader with the New York Mets Friday. Grammas and outfielder Don Landrum came to the Cubs in exchange for rookie infielder Daryl Robertson and veteran outfielder Bobby Gene Smith.

Ed Jucker, who coached Cincinnati to the 1961 and 1962 NCAA basketball title, is a 1940 graduate of Cincinnati.

BY JIMENEZ!—Manny Jimenez is about to be congratulated by Gino Cimoli after the Kansas City recruit outfielder hit a two-run home run at Fenway Park in Boston. The catcher is John Tillman. Jimenez is making an early bid for the A.L. championship with a batting average of .383.

Calls Criminal Action

U.S. Warns Russia On Border Moves

Leading To Serious Trouble

BERLIN (AP) — East German machine gun blasts at 14 desperate refugees who escaped on a stolen pleasure boat brought a grim protest and warning from the United States Saturday that border gunplay is leading to serious trouble in this divided city.

Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the U. S. commandant, charged in a letter to the Soviet commandant Maj. Gen. Andrei I. Solov'yev that the actions of East German guards were criminal, provocative, irresponsible, lawless and dangerous.

He told Solov'yev the Soviet Union is responsible for law and order in East Berlin, and warned that such shootings could only stir up civilian unrest and disorder on both sides of the wall, and "exacerbate relations between our governments."

The American protest and warning followed the escape Friday of 14 East German refugees led by a ship's cook, Joerg Lindner, who hijacked a river excursion boat and rammed it into a canal bank on the American sector side of the River Spree.

East German guards, firing from a tower, pier, patrol boat and other positions, sprayed about 200 bullets from machine guns, submachine guns and rifles into apartment houses and buildings on the American side. But the refugees, including five women and a baby escaped injury. West German police fired about 10 shots in return. There have been other shootings over the wall between police recently, usually as a result of the escape of refugees. An East German policeman was killed in one exchange.

Asks Kennedy's Aid For Public Welfare

CHICAGO (AP) — The chairman of the Illinois Public Aid Commission has asked President Kennedy for his help in preventing 60,000 persons from being cut off from welfare payments in the state.

C. Virgil Martin, IPAC chairman, wired Mr. Kennedy Saturday that that number of persons would be forced off Illinois welfare rolls unless the government extends one of its assistance programs by June 30.

Martin, in a telegram to the President, appealed for speedy congressional action to extend the program known as Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed.

"Unless federal aid is extended, over 60,000 Illinois children and their parents will be destitute," the IPAC chairman informed Mr. Kennedy.

About 35,000 of those receiving payments under the program live in Cook County. The ADCU program is a matching one in which the government contributes $1.1 million a month to match $1.2 million in state funds to provide welfare payments to needy children and their parents.

Congress first authorized the program in June, 1961, and voted funds to finance it for one year. Unless extended by congressional action, the program would expire automatically on June 30.

Continuation of the plan already has been approved by the House and is scheduled for a vote in the Senate Wednesday, Martin said.

The IPAC chairman said some Senators have indicated they will refer the proposal to a joint congressional committee before final approval.

"If the plan is sidetracked to committee, there is great danger that the bill will not be passed in time," he said.

Martin said he has been advised by Illinois Atty. Gen. William G. Clark that state funds could not legally be advanced to the ADCU program on the probability that the federal assistance program eventually would be approved.

If the bill is not passed and funds appropriated by Congress by June 30, Martin said, the 60,000 ADCU recipients will be transferred to the state-supported general assistance program. But, he added, the paper work involved in such a transfer would delay payments for at least two months.

The government - supported ADCU plan is separate from the state's Aid to Dependent Children program. The ADCU program provides welfare payments to parents if they can show they are unable to find employment. Under ADCU, a mother must show that the father of her children is unable to work, or that he deserted her, leaving her unable to care for her children.

Martin said copies of his telegram to President Kennedy also were sent to Illinois' 25 representatives and two senators.

As a reward for his genius, McCloskey, 69-year-old retired Philadelphia contractor and long-time Democratic treasurer, is going to the old sod of his ancestors, as ambassador to Ireland.

So Kennedy, former President Harry S. Truman and many other bigwigs made a date to foregather at the Mayflower Hotel Saturday night to wish him well. The enthusiasm ran so high that, although Kennedy proclaims inflation is ended, the price of the dinner was raised to $250 a head.

Starting off with supreme of lobster and proceeding through filet mignon with asparagus tips, the menu ended with lemon sherbert and cookies. A slide rule expert figured out that the asparagus tips, for example, probably cost the diners $5.35 per tip.

Singer Rosemary Clooney and entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. were on hand to entertain. But Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey was billed in an act calculated to wow the customers. He was assigned to present McCloskey a lifetime card admitting him to any Democratic fund-raising dinner - if he pays like everybody else.

Says Communist Guerrillas Use Religious Facade In Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A sightseeing taxi ride north of Saigon turned into a 68-day adventure in Communist guerrilla hands for German businessman Olof Mueller. Freed after weeks of brainwashing, he told Saturday of guerrillas masquerading as Buddhist monks with headquarters in a hilltop temple.

Mueller, 27, said he was captured while riding in a taxi to visit a Buddhist shrine. Five men dressed in South Viet Nam army uniforms stopped the car and took him and the driver to the hilltop temple, where a 65-year-old woman interrogated them.

"She was very poorly dressed and extremely thin but she identified herself as the political commander," Mueller said. "She said I was suspected of being a German spy employed by the Americans."

"Even the Buddhist priests are Viet Cong (Communist guerrillas) and they spoke to me in French, saying what a wonderful place North Viet Nam is," Mueller related.

He said that after intensive questioning he was blindfolded and taken to another shrine located in a stone cave.

"All the people in the temple are Viet Cong," he said. "There are no real priests there."

Next, he said, he was marched through jungle and rice paddies and taken to a large Viet Cong camp where he was subjected to intensive propaganda.

"They gave me some political literature, 14 pages in French, and I had to read it aloud four times a day," he said.

A political officer also gave daily lectures on the theme that the Viet Cong are independent liberation fighters.

"These Viet Cong wanted me to be convinced this movement is a movement of the people of South Viet Nam and is not being run from Hanoi (capital of Communist North Viet Nam)," he related.

Mueller, who lives in Hamburg, said larger issues of the cold war, such as the Berlin question, were never raised by the guerrillas, but they made clear during their lectures they firmly oppose American support of the South Viet Nam government.

Mueller said he was taken to a number of camps, walking openly during daylight, but with different military guards and guides every day.

He said he "just spent my time dreaming about good food" until one day he was marched to a road where the guerrillas stopped a car and forced the driver to take him to a nearby village. With him was the Vietnamese driver who had started out with Mueller on the sightseeing trip.

At the village, he said, "I hired a car and returned to Saigon as I left—in a taxi."

Fires Rage Through Algiers

By ANDREW BOROWIEC
ALGERS, Algeria (AP) — Fires triggered by bombs of European terrorists raged through Algiers Saturday, destroying schools and public buildings and damaging the U.S. information center.

A roaring fire swept through the ground floor of the often-bombed information center, located in the heart of Algiers' European section.

U.S. Consul-General William Porter said damage was heavy but declined to make an estimate. It was one of a dozen bombs and arson attacks carried out by the terrorist Secret Army Organization in its spreading scorched earth campaign. The underground organization has vowed to leave ruins and debris for the future Muslim rulers of Algeria.

In Oran to the west, the secret army attacked police encampments with bazookas and rifle grenades.

In small western Algerian towns, there reportedly were several killed and many more Muslims.

Muslim commandos countered with attacks against Europeans in Algiers, killing at least one European and wounding three.

Among the targets for secret army bomb and arson attacks were three schools, a fine arts center, a power transformer in suburban Guyotville, and a number of Moslem houses.

A spectacular fire triggered by bombs gutted the central administration building of the Algerian Gas & Electricity Co. destroying thousands of records and bills. No installations were located in the building.

The new attack on the U.S. information center came several days after the State Department officially condemned secret army terrorism in a statement.

The center has been attacked several times with plastic bombs since May 1958. It was sacked twice by rioting Europeans who accused the United States of favoring Arab nationalism.

TO MAKE HOUSING CENSUS
HAVANA (AP) — The government announced Saturday it will begin a citywide housing census Monday to weed out illegal residents and tenants whose payments are in arrears. Prime Minister Fidel Castro said May 30 thousands had moved into empty homes on their own and 30 per cent of tenants have no paid rent to the government, Cuba's only landlord.

World production of manganese ore rose more than 4 per cent in 1960, according to the 1962 Britannica Book of the Year.

Wave Of Arrests As Franco Cracks Down

MADRID, Spain (AP) — A wave of arrests was reported in Spain Saturday in the wake of a revival of underground activities against the Franco government. Official sources said numerous arrests were made. Some estimates put the number in the hundreds.

The crackdown came as the Cabinet, in a step aimed at curbing antigovernment elements, suspended for two years the right of Spaniards to live and move as they wish in Spanish territory.

The decision, following two incidents of bomb explosions in Madrid and a meeting of Spanish opposition leaders in Munich, Germany, revived speculation that a shakeup was near in Gen. Francisco Franco's Cabinet.

Official sources reported some dissatisfaction on Franco's part with the lack of ministerial coordination in handling a recent strike wave, which continued for more than seven weeks and reached a crest of nearly 100,000 men on strike before it receded.

Some of the Cabinet changes will be made for reasons of health, these sources predicted. At least two ministers are ailing and have asked to be relieved.

One unsolved question was the future of Minister Jose Solis Ruiz, Franco's chief of the Spanish syndicates and head of the Spanish Falange. Long rated just below Franco, Solis appeared to come to have lost considerable political stature during the strike wave.

Sources close to the Cabinet said a determination to crack down heavily on any opposition groups supporting or causing violence in Spain was evident at the Cabinet meeting.

This was borne out by reports that security police had made a general roundup of suspects. These detentions appeared to be in a hunt for those responsible for two separate bombings in Madrid—one at the former palace of the papal nuncio and the other at a Madrid bank reportedly controlled by the Catholic laymen's organization Opus Dei.

Official sources denied reports circulating here that a Catholic priest had been detained in connection with the Madrid bombings.

Were Calm In Outward Semblance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wall Street's Black Monday found the White House sharing much of the consternation, concern, and uncertainty that afflicted millions of investors.

Outwardly, President Kennedy and his key financial advisers preserved an air of confident calm. Behind the scenes, however, there were significant disagreements or how to deal with the stock market debacle.

Sources close to the discussion reported Saturday that policy makers considered—and discarded—suggestions for a variety of emergency moves including a special television-radio address by the President.

At one point, the source said Kennedy was set to make such a talk. However, the President later pulled back from the idea lest it be viewed as an indication of alarm.

Still other ideas were studied at a White House meeting on the morning of May 29, the day after the market took its sharpest tumble since 1929. These included:

Reduction of stock market margin requirements from 70 per cent to 50 per cent. Chairman William Chesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board vigorously resisted this suggestion.

Issuance of an unusual public statement by Martin, once he had won the margin fight, to explain why he felt lower margins would be unwise.

A quick announcement that the administration would seek a cut in corporate and individual income tax rates.

All these ideas were shelved initially but the tax cut plan was revived a week later, with Kennedy announcing at his Thursday news conference that across-the-board reductions will be sought next year.

Probers Say Oil Worth Millions May Be Pirated

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Investigators say a current probe of modern-day piracy of black gold in the rich Texas oil field, may show that millions of dollars in "hot oil" has been pumped through wells slanted to siphon from neighboring leases.

The Texas Railroad Commission, state attorney general's office, Texas Department of Public Safety and the Federal Petroleum Board are involved in the investigation.

They are looking for wells deviated—slanted or curved—from the permitted three degrees. By late last week, when the surveys still continuing, inclination and directional surveys had turned up 12 wells deviated illegally.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said one of the deviated wells slanted 56 degrees. He said the well bottomed at 3,500 feet below the surface of the ground, but held 5,100 feet of pipe. The horizontal distance from the ground opening of the well and its bottom was 3,286 feet.

Estimates of the value of "hot oil" pumped through slanted wells vary widely. Several weeks ago, (Continued On Page 11)

Governor Fights Rain, Game Leg To Hike Lincoln Trail

By ARTHUR L. SRB
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Otto Kerner, soaking wet and favoring a game leg, sprinted the last 100 yards through a steady rain to climax a 19-mile hike over the New Lincoln Trail Saturday.

The 53-year-old Illinois chief executive elected to end his hike 2 1/2 miles short of the official stopping place in downtown Springfield. He had started out this morning from New Salem to follow the route Abraham Lincoln supposedly took when he walked from his New Salem home to Springfield to borrow law books.

The governor took 11 hours to make the trek, including a three-hour break to take Lord Peter Baden-Powell, son of the founder of the Boy Scouts, on a tour of New Salem.

Lord and Lady Baden-Powell flew into Springfield from Indianapolis and were driven out to a point on the trail where they met the governor. The governor at that point had hiked about 13 miles and the Boy Scout uniform he was wearing was soaked by a heavy downpour.

Nevertheless, Gov. Kerner climbed into the limousine and was driven back to New Salem with his guests for a tour of some Lincoln landmarks. Afterwards, he was driven back to where he had left off and resumed tramping.

At one point in the hike, aides feared a swollen knee would force the governor to abandon his plan to inaugurate the new trail with an end-to-end hike. Gov. Kerner had injured the knee several days ago and it began to swell after the first few miles of walking.

Two Eagle Scouts who accompanied the governor finished the march into downtown Springfield. They were Timon Kreiling, 18, of Peoria, and Dave Winter, 18, of Towanda.

"They're good," the governor said of his two walking companions. Two newspaper men also walked the distance with the governor.

Of a troop of 65 Boy Scouts who started out behind the governor, all but a handful finished. The governor and his escort were the last to arrive, due primarily to the governor's three-hour recess.

The governor started out at 8:35 a.m. and finished at 7:15 p.m. CDT.

WARM UP ENGINE — ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The closer you live to the new expressways, the greater your chances of wearing out your car before its time—unless you're careful, says Walter Lavin of the Automobile Club of Rochester.

Drive your car slowly for three to five minutes before getting on the expressway, especially in winter, Lavin suggests. You damage vital engine parts when you clip along at turnpike speeds before the engine is warmed up, he explains. Ever season cooked beats with a dash of tarragon vinegar?

Questers Make Picnic Excursion To Missouri

The Land of Lincoln Questers enjoyed their annual excursion and picnic Sunday, June 3.

The historic home to be visited was the residence of the late General Bissell in Bellefontaine, Mo., a suburb of St. Louis near the Chain of Rocks bridge. This home had been taken over by the St. Louis County Historical Society, and was presumably open to the public. Arriving there the group was regrettably informed by a son of the Bissell family residing there that it was still a private dwelling, and not yet open for inspection.

The Questers in disappointment drove to Bellefontaine Park, overlooking the Mississippi River for a picnic lunch, and in the midst of the meal Mr. Bissell appeared.

Here on a knoll he built a great L-shaped two story brick mansion, in the midst of three hundred acres of rolling hills. Since then the L had been filled out to a rectangle with a two story wooden addition. The original home had a detached kitchen in the south wing. Mrs. Smith related how when she was a small girl they lived way out in the country, and she watched the 300 acres whittled down by developers to the present nine acre island among the tightly built suburb.

The wallpaper in the hall was a French reproduction, repeated panels of scenes. Fine glass chandeliers and great fireplaces were in every room. Peased floors of wide boards revealed the solid construction.

The family is moving in a few weeks, and in the rooms were the time old heirloom pieces to be left. In the parlor and living room were two fine square pianos, two matched Empire sewing tables, two matched Empire card tables, two matched marble topped library tables, and huge matched mahogany framed mirrors.

In the dining room was a dining table perhaps twelve feet long and a huge sideboard of Empire style, reminders of the days of lavish entertainment and hearty meals.

Upstairs in the bedrooms were antique beds and marble topped dressers. Outstanding was the huge four poster bed of the general, with tall sloping square mahogany pillars. The original canopy was gone, but a reproduction of it would be restored.

Other mementoes were old rifles, the general's epaulettes, and a lithographed likeness of the stern countenance of General Bissell.

The group enjoyed the privilege of seeing the home, and complimented the hostess, her daughter and son for their gracious hospitality in making their excursion an unexpected success.

The Questers then drove to Forest Park for recreation. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan and Mr. and Mrs. Smith visited the Climatron in Shaw's Garden enjoying the profusion of tropical vegetation. Outstanding were many varieties of colorful orchids.

Regular meetings will be resumed in October.

JOOF POTLUCK TUESDAY — Odd Fellows and Rebekah Lodges will hold a potluck supper Tuesday, June 12, at 6:30 p.m. at the JOOF Hall in Jacksonville. The supper will honor Minna Jean Way of Murrayville who won a trip to the United Nations building in New York.

Keep a vegetable brush on hand at your kitchen sink for scrubbing green beans, radishes and celery stalks. Use the brush for potatoes, too, when you are boiling or baking them in their skins.

Connie Lou Zimmer

Mr. and Mrs. Varner O. Zimmer announce the engagement of their daughter, Connie Lou, to Gerald W. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford S. Walker of Murrayville.

Miss Zimmer is a 1961 graduate of Jacksonville High School, and is employed at Myers Brothers clothing store, Jacksonville. Mr. Walker, a 1958 graduate of Jacksonville High School, is engaged in farming with his father at Murrayville.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Memphis Back In The Union

One hundred years ago the "magnetic telegraph" brought cheering confirmation of the occupation of Memphis, and Jacksonville had another celebration—the first for a long time and the last one for months.

The telegraph had brought the news that the mayor of Memphis had turned over the town after the Confederate marine force there had been trounced by the heavier Union gunboats and the new Ellet Ram Fleet.

Before 1862 Memphis was a mighty important place to this section of Illinois. It was one of the best customers the towns along the Illinois river had and when it was bottled up by the South every segment of the economy here was hurt hard. Through Naples and Meredosia this area had sent vast quantities of wheat, flour, rye, pork, beef and whisky to Memphis.

It was mighty good territory to get back.

Among the dispatches from Memphis was this report from Col. Charles E. Ellet, commanding officer of the Ram Fleet:

Yesterday, after the engagement with the rebel fleet had nearly terminated, and the gunboats and one of my rams had passed below, I was informed that a white flag had been raised in the city. I immediately sent my son, a medical cadet, Charles R. Ellet, ashore with a flag of truce, and the following note to the authorities:

Opposite Memphis, June 8, 1862. I understand that the City of Memphis has surrendered. I therefore send you my son with two United States flags, with instructions to raise one upon the Customs-house and the other upon the Court-house as evidence of the return of your city to the care and protection of the Constitution.

Charles Ellet, Jun. Colonel Commanding

The bearer of the flag and the above note was accompanied by Lieutenant Crankell, of the Fifty-ninth Illinois Regiment, and two men of the boat guard.

The following is the reply of the Mayor of the city:

Memphis, June 8, 1862. Colonel Charles Ellet, Jun., Commanding, etc.:

Sir: Your note of this date is received and the contents noted. The civil authorities of this city are not advised to its surrender to the forces of the United States government, and our reply to you is simply to state respectfully that we have no force to oppose the raising of the flags you have directed to be raised over the Customs-house and Post-office.

Respectfully,

John Park, Mayor

Quite a few of the boys from this section were in at the surrender of Memphis, for the Ram Fleet guard was made up of men transferred out of the 39th Illinois Infantry Regiment.

This regiment was made up of men from all sections of Illinois, and from many states. It was formed in St. Louis in the early days of the war by men who wanted to get into the scrap. But they found all the Illinois companies full so they went down to St. Louis and there formed the 9th Missouri Regiment. Since most of them were from Illinois it was later renamed the 39th Illinois.

Co. G, was mostly all from Greene county, with a few from Jersey and Morgan. They were rallied by Capt. Joshua C. Winters of White Hall, who later rose to major and then to lieutenant colonel of the regiment.

The outfit had a rough time of it, literally walking all over Missouri, Arkansas, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas. It was one of the first in the war and among the last out.

HUMORS of the day

Women first resorted to tight lacing to prove to men how well they could bear squeezing.

A lady fellow begs alms, saying that he could not find bread for his family. "Nor I," replied an industrious mechanic; "I am obliged to work for it."

Why cannot two slender persons ever become great friends? Because they will always be slight acquaintances.

A man may be called poverty-stricken when knocked down by a beggar.

What was the matter with Brown, who died yesterday? "Oh, he drank too much beer; that's what ailed him."

A countryman recently came to town to purchase an article of household necessity, and in passing a music-shop observed, "All sorts of wind instruments for sale here." He forthwith stepped in and asked for a pair of bellows.

—Harper's Weekly.

News, Views Century Ago

From the Jacksonville Sentinel:

If you are opposed to negro equality and the emigration of negroes and Mulattoes into the state, vote for the new constitution.

The remains of Lieut. Nelson B. Newman, who was accidentally killed in some manner in the army, were brought to this city for internment on Wednesday, and were interred on Thursday with Masonic honors.

A large number of our citizens participated in the picnic excursion to Petersburg, on last Thursday. Aside from the delay and annoyance caused by the baulking of the iron horse at one of the heavy grades, the trip is said to have been pleasant.

A FEMALE AGITATOR

A traveling strong-minded woman, calling herself Mrs. Tracy Cutler, was advertised by posters to lecture on the war, and our duties growing out of the same, at the East Charge Methodist church on last Saturday night. Her discourse turned out an abolition harangue, urging the prohibition of the war to the forcible abolition of slavery.

She repeated her performance Monday night at the German Church, but her lecture was badly relished by the audience.

A CHILD FOUND

Written especially for the Sentinel by Mr. Bayless.

Notice is hereby given to that disconsolate, bereft mother, whose darling infant so mysteriously fled from the arms of its loving parent, that early on Monday morning, 9th inst., in the door yard of the Morgan County Poor House, was found a fine little girl, less than one week old, with dark hair, dark eyes, quite good-looking, and weighing eight pounds. The little stranger was poorly dressed—wrapped up in an old dirty white blanket, marked 504, with red, and looked as though it might have once contained wool, and been thus numbered in the carding machine.

Now should the agonizing mother fail to get information that will lead to the whereabouts of her lovely child, we then hope that some humane lady may see this notice, who may want a little girl to raise, and be induced to call to take his mother's darling, and bring it up in such a way, that it may look down with scorn and contempt upon a mother who will thus abandon her own child.

D. B. C. Bayless, Supt. Morgan County Poor Farm June 10.

Editor Bailey noted: "The little foundling was clothed in dirty, ragged garments of the poorest description. The supposition is that the parents of the helpless little stranger are of respectable standing, and that the infant was wrapped in ragged habiliments to evade suspicion, the clothing in which the child was enveloped was such as even the poorest family in the city would not be likely to use for such a purpose."

SNOKE FROM THE SOUTH

It was in June, 100 years ago, that many people of Illinois claimed they smelled powder smoke when the wind was from the south.

Many helpless folks with poor smellers couldn't detect anything different with the air—just as it was a few years ago when many people could see tiling saucers in the sky and their lesser compatriots couldn't see a thing... Some of the best posted, best educated, persons in Illinois definitely scented the odor and charged it to the "volcanic discharge of nitre."

Also in June 100 years ago, some of the older folks began noting that the weather was "unseasonable." The savants of 1862 said it was "doubtless due to the discharge of the giant cannon in this unfortunate exchange of arms."

Now, I'm not sure, but I think there has been a whole of a difference in the weather ever since they cracked off that first atom bomb.

Again, maybe I'm just getting older.

—Cecil Tendick

Receive Service Awards

Service awards for outstanding work in the Big Brother and Big Sister organization during the past year were made at the annual banquet held at the Blackhawk Thursday evening.

Big Brother, Sister First Annual Dinner Draws Large Crowd

The first annual dinner of the Morgan County Big Brothers and Sisters Association was held Thursday evening at 6:30 at the Blackhawk Restaurant with a large group of interested members and friends present.

Darrow Steinheimer, president, presided and extended greetings.

Mr. Steinheimer said he felt with the interest of the city and county officials and laymen in the community, evidenced by the attendance at the annual meeting, prospects for realizing aims of the organization for 1962-63 were bright.

One of the current projects, he pointed out, is a planned bus tour during the summer to visit the work camp at New Salem and the schools for girls and boys at Joliet and St. Charles. During the next week, a group will be meeting to map out a definite outline for laymen to follow in acting as Big Brothers or Big Sisters. Mr. Steinheimer explained the counseling idea of such volunteer help may have received undue attention. The main idea for the layman to follow is to provide companionship for boys and girls. He emphasized the fact that this organization, as well as many others, is vitally interested in working on the problem of dropouts in school.

Mr. Steinheimer introduced George W. Withey, Superintendent of the Division of Community Services of the Illinois Youth Commission, who presented service awards on behalf of the Big Brothers and Sisters Association. Captain Wilbur Stafford of the local police force was recognized for his outstanding accomplishments with the youth in the community. Paul Wahl was recognized for his work as a Big Brother during this past year when he maintained his interest and effectiveness in the face of discouragement and setbacks. Darrow Steinheimer was recognized for his past service in many community groups in the interest of youth and particularly for being the driving force in the organization of the Morgan County Big Brothers and Sisters Association.

The speaker for the evening, John A. Troike, Chairman of the Illinois Youth Commission, opened his talk by paying tribute to the "doers" who had received service awards. He explained these were the people who got the job done.

Mr. Troike said he had worked for 30 years in Boy Scout work with "average" boys. A year ago when he assumed his duties as chairman of the Youth Commission, he became acquainted with the group we label as "those who get in trouble." He pointed out the extreme need for preventive help by quoting one of the boys at St. Charles with whom he first talked who asked, "What are you worrying about me for? Why didn't somebody think of me when I got in trouble the first time?"

He emphasized the need for giving boys in trouble one more chance and going the extra mile with them, trying one more time. One boy who had run away from seven of the work camps was given even another chance and something "clicked" for him the eighth time. He is now happily married and frequently discusses his experiences with the boys in work camps.

Mr. Troike gave tribute to his own father who never finished elementary school. The family lived back of the Chicago Stockyards in a tough neighborhood and plenty of the boys got in trouble. The Troike home was open to them when the boys returned and they were given something to do, warmth and friendship, and a worth-while adult to know.

In volunteer organizations, like the Big Brother and Sister Association, Mr. Troike said, the layman has the opportunity to help boys and girls, and if we do not lend this helping hand to these in trouble, we may be endangering our very America. "Whether the boys and girls belong to the 97% that are labeled 'pretty good' or the 3% who have been in trouble, they are still our young America. It is the youth of all kinds we must work with."

The meeting was adjourned until next month on July 2nd at Hamilton's Cafe.

Cards Hand Skidding Giants Fourth In Row

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ray Sadecki moved from the doghouse to the throne room Saturday as he hit his first major league home run and pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to their fifth straight victory 8-4 over the skidding San Francisco Giants.

Sadecki had been fined $250 and strongly censured by Manager Johnny Keane after Tuesday's game with the Reds for what the manager termed "the worst exhibition of effort I've ever seen on a major league diamond." He was suspended for failing to show up for the next game, then reinstated.

The 21-year-old St. Louis southpaw had to do it the hard way

Cottier's Homer In 10th Inning Gives Solons Win

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chuck Cottier blasted a home run into the Senators' bullpen in the bottom of the 10th Saturday to give Washington a 4-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers in the third straight thriller between these two teams.

Cottier, goat of Detroit's victory Friday night, doubled as lead-off batter in the ninth and scored the tying run on John Schaefer's single.

Marty Kutyna, the winner in relief, opened the 10th with a single, but was forced at second by Chuck Hinton. Cottier picked off Jerry Casale's second pitch and hit his second home run of the season.

Hank Aguirre of the Tigers and the Senators' Tom Cheney both pitched three-hit ball for eight innings. The Tigers scored their only runs on Cheney's wild pitches.

Cheney's first wild pitch followed singles by Jake Wood and Billy Bruton in the sixth. Cheney walked Dick Brown, and Aguirre sacrificed, Cheney walked Wood. The runner moved up on Bruton's tap back to the mound, and again with Cash batting. Cheney uncorked a wild pitch, Brown scoring.

(10 innings) Detroit 000 010 010 0-2 6 0 Washington 000 000 101 2-4 8 1 Aguirre, Fox (9), Nischwitz (9), Casale (9) and Brown; Cheney, Kutyna (9) and Retzer; W—Kutyna (2-6), L—Casale (1-1).

Says Record Run In Two Mile Was Planned Long Ago

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jim Beatty's record 2-mile run Friday night was planned three months ago, his coach, Mihaly Igloi, said Saturday.

When Beatty crossed the finish line in 8 minutes 29.8 seconds during the Southern Pacific AAU meet, he ran almost exactly in the time Igloi had charted.

"I knew, last March what Jim could do," Igloi said as Beatty worked out early Saturday. "All of his training since then was aimed at last night's meet."

Igloi, a Hungarian refugee who coaches the distance runners for the Los Angeles Track Club, displayed a graph in which he had charted Beatty's time by quarters. Beside it was Beatty's actual performance Friday night.

It showed that at the mile mark Beatty was a little more than four seconds off schedule. Then he gradually made up almost all of the time.

The best previous time of 8:30.0 was set by Murray Halberg of New Zealand last year in Sweden, but the time has not been recognized.

Next event on Beatty's schedule is a mile run in the National AAU meet June 22-23 in Walnut, Calif.

Jaipur Wins Belmont In Blistering Finish

By JOHN CHANDLER Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Favored Admiral's Voyage right on the wire Saturday in a blistering finish of the $153,300 Belmont Stakes and brought realization to the life-long dreams of its owner, George D. Widener.

It was perhaps the most wide open of all Belmonts run since the gruelling event for 3-year-old horses was inaugurated in 1867 at old Jerome Park in the Bronx. Fred W. Hooper's Admiral's Voyage led most of the way in the 1 1/2-mile race but couldn't hold off Jaipur and Jockey Willie Shoemaker in one breath-taking instant at the finish.

Admiral's Voyage, the colt who was supposed to travel the long route of the race, got second place by 1 1/2 lengths over Crimson Satan, entry of two colts in 1944, but his previous showing was three second places.

This was the third Belmont for Shoemaker, the 31-year-old native of Fabens, Tex., who won with Gallant Fox in 1930 and Secretariat in 1931.

Jaipur, a dark bay son of Nasrullah-Rare Perfume, by Eight Thirty, returned $7.70, $4.40 and $3.40, as the longest-priced Belmont favorite since pari-mutuels came to New York in 1940. Admiral's Voyage returned $7.40 and $5.20, while Crimson Satan paid $3.70 to show.

Jaipur, who had won the $130,700 Jersey Derby May 30 at Garden State Park on a disqualification of Crimson Satan, collected $109,550 for the biggest prize in Belmont's history.

The winning time was 2:28 4/5.

Widener, 73, chairman of the American Jockey Club and former president of Belmont Park, has been trying to win this big prize since 1918. His first starter that year was Lanius, who finished fourth. His Jack Hawk was third in 1929. In all, he had started nine horses in eight Belmonts, with an entry of two colts in 1944, but his previous showing was three second places.

Pair Leads Thunderbird Classic Jack Nicklaus, Dow Finsterwald Shoot Hot Round

By WILL GRIMSLEY Associated Press Sports Writer

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus, with a phenomenal 7-under-par 65, and Don Finsterwald, with a 67, shot into the lead in the $100,000 Golf Classic with 207 Saturday as Sam Snead up and Arnold Palmer continued in his horrendous slump.

The 50-year-old Snead, who carried a two-stroke lead into the third round, skidded to a 78 over the par 72 Upper Montclair course and fell seven strokes off the pace at 214.

Meanwhile, Palmer, the Masters' champion and leading money winner, for the third straight day failed to break par. He shot a scrambling 72 for 219 and asked permission to withdraw.

"I'd like to go home and try to get in shape for the Open," he said, referring to the big championship starting Thursday at Oakmont, Pa. When the officials urged that he remain in the tournament, Palmer complied.

It looked like a cavalry charge finish for the final round Sunday in the mad scramble for the $25,000 first prize biggest plum of the tour.

In second place, a stroke back of Nicklaus and Finsterwald, was Gene Littler, the reigning Open champion, with 208 after a third round 70.

Three were tied at 209 — Paul Harney, with 69; Wes Ellis, 70, and Butch Baird, a dark horse from Galveston, Tex., who plunged into the picture with a 68. Baird is a 25-year-old former Lamar Tech student who turned pro in 1959.

Fred Hawkins and Frank Bonner were tied at 210, followed by Jack Burke Jr., at 211.

NEW YORK (AP)—Yogi Berra, appearing in his 2,000th game in a pinch hitter's role, crashed a three-run homer to climax a five-run rally by the New York Yankees for a 7-3 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles Saturday.

It was the fifth straight victory for the Yankees, whose scoreless pitching was snapped at 28-2-3 consecutive innings when the Orioles broke through with a run in the first inning. Prior to Saturday's game, Ralph Terry, Bill

Steffard and the combination of Whitey Ford and Jim Coates had pitched back-to-back shutouts.

The victory went to Roland Sheldon, who left for a pinch hitter in the vital seventh. Marshall Bridges finished up for the Yankees. It was Sheldon's fourth victory against two defeats.

Bobby Richardson, who had four of his team's 14 hits off three Baltimore pitchers, also homered for the Yankees, as did Tommy Tresh.

Army Pvt. Steve Barber, on a 25-day furlough, enjoyed a 2-0 lead until the Yankees erupted in the seventh. Singles by Johnny Temple and Russ Snyder followed by Brooks Robinson's sacrifice fly, accounted for the first Oriole run. Baltimore made it 2-0 in the third on Snyder's homer, his fifth of the season.

Baltimore 101 000 010-3 7 1 New York 000 000 528-7 14 1 Barber, Hall (7) and Loui; Sheldon, Bridges (8) and Howard; W—Sheldon (4-2), L—Barber (4-4).

Home runs—Baltimore, Snyder (5), New York, Richardson (4), Berra (3), Tresh (3).

BOSTON (AP)—Cleveland unloaded a big-gun attack featuring Willie Kirkland and Tito Francona, then hung on for a 14-10 victory over the riddled Boston Red Sox Saturday.

Kirkland, hitting 2-3 at game time, smashed a three-run homer, two singles, walked twice and drove in four tallies. Francona had a homer, triple and single, scored three times and had two RBIs.

Both helped old Sox nemesis Pedro Ramos to his 23rd lifetime victory over Boston against 14 losses though he needed late relief.

The Red Sox learned second baseman Chuck Schilling will be out a month with a hairline fracture of the left hand, sustained Friday night, only moments before center fielder Gary Geiger suffered a concussion crashing into the wall.

Geiger was carried out on a stretcher and hospitalized after he rammed the barrier attempting to make a leaping catch of Francona's triple on the first play of the game.

160 032 200-14 14 4 Boston 000 202 231-10 14 2 Ramos, Hawkins (8), Funk (9) and Romano; Schwall, Kolstad (5), Nichols (7), Cisco (9) and Tillman; W—Ramos (3-2), L—Schwall (1-7).

Home runs—Cleveland, Kirkland (9), Francona (5), Held (8), Boston, Yastrzemski (7), Malone (2), Tillman (8).

GONZALES TO COACH DAVIS CUP BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Richard Pancho Gonzales, world professional tennis champion eight times and twice the National Amateur king, was named Saturday to coach the U.S. Davis Cup team.

Non-playing Cup Capt. Robert J. Kennerman made the announcement at his home.

Gonzales said he would get together with the team after it comes back from Wimbledon to play Canada at Cleveland early in July.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rookie Dean Chance pitched his first complete game in the majors and won Saturday as the Los Angeles Angels defeated Kansas City 8-1.

Chance, picking up his fourth victory in seven decisions, was touched for 10 hits. But the Athletics could score only in the sixth, when Jose Tartabull doubled and came in on a single by Manny Jimenez.

Wagner's homer, a 390-foot drive off John Wyatt, put the Angels ahead 1-0 in the third. It tied him for the American League home run lead with Jim Gentile of Baltimore and Norm Casier of Detroit.

The Angels scored three times in the fourth on a walk and doubles by Bob Rodgers, Earl Averill and Abbie Pearson. They got two unearned runs off reliever Bill Kunkel in the fifth with the help of an error by shortstop Dick Howser.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rookie Dean Chance pitched his first complete game in the majors and won Saturday as the Los Angeles Angels defeated Kansas City 8-1.

Chance, picking up his fourth victory in seven decisions, was touched for 10 hits. But the Athletics could score only in the sixth, when Jose Tartabull doubled and came in on a single by Manny Jimenez.

Wagner's homer, a 390-foot drive off John Wyatt, put the Angels ahead 1-0 in the third. It tied him for the American League home run lead with Jim Gentile of Baltimore and Norm Casier of Detroit.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The big extended in Wall Street calmed down last week and stock market experts hoped for—and some predicted—a settling-down process that might last for weeks or months.

The consensus was that only by such a stabilization could genuine value in stocks be judged once more on their merits rather than in emotion.

In the past week stocks took another "Blue Monday" jolt—about half as blue as the preceding Monday, when the market executed its worst dive since 1929.

After some seething Tuesday, the list went into gear for a vigorous advance Wednesday which recovered about half of Monday's losses.

The final two days brought a great decrease in trading and, on balance, a slight softening in prices. The dullness was a great relief to many in the Street.

The biggest news of the week was President Kennedy's pledge to ask Congress for an across-the-board tax cut effective next Jan. 1.

The market showed little response to this, however, because Monday Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon had said substantially the same thing. The fact that it would take effect—if adopted by Congress—next year rather than this removed some of the punch.

So far as the market was concerned, the Dow Jones industrial average this week dropped 9.44 to 601.81.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 3.60 at 221.80.

The pace of trading dwindled tremendously. Volume was only 21,041,000 shares, compared with 40,563,230 in the preceding week, which had only four trading days, due to the Memorial Day holiday.

Uncertain, uneasy and unsettled were the three adjectives applied most often to the bond market.

Despite this shaky atmosphere, U.S. government bonds managed to have gains. Corporate bonds traded on the New York Stock Exchange made little headway.

Corporate volume on the Exchange tumbled from a 17-year peak the previous week but was still the second best of the year.

Volume totaled $41,778,000, compared with $55,310,000 the previous week.

Evangelist Says Christian Faith Can Change Life

CHICAGO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham said Saturday night the Christian rebirth is an act of faith that can transform a person's life.

"Many people insist on coming into the Kingdom of God here first instead of heart first," Dr. Graham told a huge audience gathered at McCormick Place, Lakefront exposition hall, for the ninth evening of his Chicago crusade.

"They insist on being converted before they are converted," he said.

Dr. Graham said he did not discourage honest inquiry into Christianity, but added: "I have found that usually when a man writes a question mark over all Christ has said, it is a means of dodging the truth rather than an honest attempt to discover the truth."

"I want to tell you, people, 'want' religion in the framework of textbooks and test tubes." But life is filled with examples of intangible—but real—things that cannot be analyzed.

"In all life there is an element of mystery," Graham said. "In the Bible, all answers are not printed at the back of the book as they are in some grade-school arithmetic books."

All life is a series of rebirths and awakenings. Nature is filled with examples of new birth. The lowly caterpillar whose chief fame is that a tractor is named for him—his lot seems empty and useless and threatened by man, beast and fowl. But one day he climbs into a tree and nature throws a fiber rope around him. And out of that cocoon emerges a beautiful, resplendent creature. This example tells us that man can change.

Man needs a rebirth. Dr. Graham told his audience. His nature must be changed and redirected. Dr. Graham said man turned away from God by his own choice and "he must by deliberate choice come back to God."

"God has done all that needs to be done as far as the technical part of the transaction is concerned," Dr. Graham said. "But there is one thing. He cannot touch—that is your will. He cannot force you to accept the light which he holds out to you."

FLURRIES FAIL TO AID GRAIN FUTURES

CHICAGO (AP)—A few scattered flurries of buying failed to pull the grain futures market out of its bearish trend last week and prices continued their general downward trend on the Board of Trade.

Corn, under stiffest pressure, slipped almost 4 cents a bushel on the July delivery and about 3 cents on others. Except for a relatively meager demand by exporters and other commercial interests, buyers were virtually nonexistent in that pit.

Wheat closed 3/4-7/8 cents a bushel lower than a week ago, July 2 1/2-3/4, corn 2 1/2-3/4, low. July 1 1/2-3/4, oats 1/2-3/4, low. July 1 1/2-3/4, rye 3/4-1/2, low. July 1 1/2-3/4, soybeans 1/2-3/4, low. July 1 1/2-3/4.

Graham Captures Gangs' Attention In South Side

CHICAGO (AP)—Peace reigned Saturday as members of rival gangs gathered to hear the evangelist Billy Graham speak at the South Side Christian Center in a Negro section.

Graham told the gathering, "Being a square takes guts after making a decision for God. I've tried it and it did change my life. For it gave me a power and a purpose for living."

More than 100 boys in varied attire, some with baseball shirts denoting their gang loyalty, packed the small hall.

Graham told the teen-aged boys about his youth and said he did things they have done. As a youth, all he thought about was dating, driving hot rods and playing baseball.

The evangelist said he once remarked that if he had to attend a certain religious meeting, he might punch the minister in the nose. Graham's religious parents compelled him to attend, he said, but he sat in the back row and hid behind a woman who was wearing a big hat.

"The Bible says life is inside the body," Graham told the youths. "It is the soul, and even after you die it lives on for thousands of years."

Graham repeated a conversation with heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, who said God had changed his life.

"You could start something to change Chicago, right here," he told the gathering. "Just a handful of Communists took over Russia and only 12 disciples spread the teaching of Jesus Christ."

Although Christ was not violent, Graham said, he drove the money lenders out of the temple and died on the cross in a preconceived plan to relieve the world of sin.

"Reject God's offer of love, and sometime you will be slapped down," Graham declared. He related that a New York mobster attended one of his meetings and his life was changed. The man, Jim Voss, now spends all of his time working with youth, he said.

As Graham ended his address, he invited the group to attend the evening's meeting.

When the boys piled out of the hall one said, "That Billy Graham, he's all right."

KILLED IN STUDENT RIOT

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A 20-year-old woman student died Saturday of bullet wounds suffered in a clash among student supporters and opponents of ex-dictator Juan D. Peron. Five other students were injured in the riot at the law school Friday night.

Were Calm In Outward Semblance

It seems likely also that participants in the May 29 meeting at least reviewed the government's emergency powers to temporarily close stock exchanges and bar the redemption of mutual fund shares.

These steps may be taken by the Securities and Exchange Commission with the President's approval.

There is no evidence to indicate that immediate resort to either move was given serious consideration.

The administration's first public reaction to the events of Black Monday came at midday from Chairman Walter W. Heller of the Council of Economic Advisors. He told a luncheon audience that nothing in the economy justified the effort.

Heller, and the President, deeply disturbed by the historic turmoil, thought the simplest way to restore market confidence might be to ease margin requirements to permit the purchase of stock with a downpayment of 50 per cent rather than 70 per cent.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon agreed.

During the evening, Dillon made a series of telephone calls to Martin, whose reserve board has jurisdiction over margin levels.

The reserve board chairman, a former president of the New York Stock Exchange, threw cold water on the suggestion. Martin said lower margins would have no effect on those who already had bought stock on credit. Thus, lower margins could not be used to rescue investors facing margin calls—demands for more collateral—on current holdings.

Martin believed also a cut in margins might be regarded as a sign of official panic and, in that way, aggravate the situation.

Dillon swung around to Martin's view once he was convinced that lower margin would be useless as a rescue device.

At this point, the White House made some changes in the President's schedule, moving to May 29 from June 1 the monthly meeting of Kennedy, Dillon, Heller, Martin and Budget Director David E. Bell.

Joining Dillon, Heller and Martin in the President's office were Kennedy, Bell, Undersecretary of Commerce Edward Gudeman, Commissioner Manuel F. Cohen of the SEC and presidential assistants Theodore Sorensen and Myer Feldman. Kenneth Gordon of the Council of Economic Advisors also sat in briefly.

Both the President and Heller argued at once for lowering margin requirements.

Martin stood his ground, arguing that such a move would only add fuel to Wall Street's fire. Dillon backed him up.

It was agreed there would be no reduction in margin. However, Dillon agreed with Kennedy and Heller it might be helpful if Martin issued a statement detailing his position.

The reserve board chief said this would be out of character and unwise. He suggested that, at such a time, more good would come from a statement by, for example, the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., than by anyone in government.

Dillon was adamant as Martin when the conferees discussed the possibility of a quick promise of a tax cut. Dillon wanted to stick to the original timetable of presenting Congress the outlines of a broad tax reform package late in its current session, for action next year.

When the conference broke up, it was agreed that Dillon would talk to newsmen. The word he had for them was that this was not the time for panic action, that the economy was sound, and that there was no need for a tax cut.

Almost simultaneously, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, who had been fully briefed on the White House meeting, told a news conference he favored an announcement as quickly as possible that the administration would seek a 1963 tax cut.

Hodges spoke, the market continued in a dizzy tailspin. An hour later, however, the tide turned and a vigorous rally began. The immediate pressure was off Kennedy and his associates.

In the week that followed, however, the market remained skittish and there was increasing talk of a sluggish economy despite its steady climb to record levels. Discussion of taxes moved to the fore and Kennedy, a political activist, who dislikes dealing with the House of Representatives, suggested, on Friday, a convalescing stock market seemed not to notice.

Mass. Democrats Are Kennedy Led On State Ticket

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Massachusetts Democrats have another Kennedy-led state ticket to offer the voters this fall.

The latest Kennedy political entry is President John F. Kennedy's youngest brother, Edward M., called Ted—who won the endorsement of the Democratic State Convention Friday night.

That was only the opening round. State Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr., who lost to Kennedy, said he'll "take my case to the people," by entering the September state primary.

Probers Say Oil Worth Millions May Be Pirated

some industry sources estimated privately that $10 million was pumped through slant-hole wells in 1961 alone.

Late this week, a Dallas newspaper estimates that theft of oil by illegal drilling deviations may amount to $5 million a month.

Another published report said 200 to 300 leases were involved and as many as 1,000 wells in the field could be involved.

This week, about 80 independent oil-producers in the field formed an organization to give "the other side of the story" of the well deviation controversy.

G. L. Yoachum of Kilgore, temporary chairman of the group, said "we are highly incensed at the 'police methods' being used by some state officials in attempts to obtain evidence."

But there were also many producers. Commission Chairman W. J. Murray said, who indicated they would not cooperate.

More than 30 east Texas wells have had pipeline connections severed, he said, because operators would not let the commission survey the wells.

About 50 Texas Rangers and highway patrolmen are standing duty around the clock to prevent wells from being "junked"—obstacles put in the well hole—before the surveys can be made.

Still, Wilson said Tuesday one well scheduled for survey had been "junked" and the survey could not be made.

Wright Continues Moyer 'Mastery'

By MURRAY ROSE Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Welterweight Teddy Wright of Detroit completed his mastery over the fighting Moyer family of Portland, Ore., Saturday night by winning an upset, split 10-round decision over middleweight contender Denny Moyer at Madison Square Garden.

Wright, a 135-underdog, weighed 153; to Moyer's 159.

It was the third victory in 35 days for Wright, who outpointed Phil Moyer in the Garden two weeks ago.

Saturday night's televised 10-rounder was a brick battle all the way. The verdict was greeted by a mixture of boos and cheers.

Referee Art Mercante and Judge Tony Castellano each had Wright ahead 54-1 in rounds. Judge Joe Agnello had Moyer in front, 64-4. The Associated Press card had Moyer ahead, 64-4.

ACES 264-YARD HOLE AURORA, Ill. (AP)—Dick Forrestal, an East Aurora High School senior, aces a 264-yard four hole at the Aurora Municipal Golf Course Saturday.

Forrestal, 17, used a No. 4 wood to accomplish the feat. He played with three companions and finished with a 68 over the par 72 layout.

To Graduate

And if that isn't enough, just a week from Saturday there's another famous political name going into the arena at the Republicans' state convention in Worcester.

It's a Lodge contest for the Republicans—George C. Lodge, son of former U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, is running for that party's senatorial nomination.

Lodge also has a convention opponent, Rep. Laurence Curtis, R-Mass., who turned to the Senate contest when congressional redistricting eliminated his seat.

And it could be that the Republican senatorial contest also will be appealed to the party voters in the primary.

A convention win in Massachusetts simply gives the endorsed candidate first place on the ballot. He still can be forced to battle it out for the nomination in the primary.

All this means there may be a fourth generation election contest in the making between the Lodge and Kennedy families—the latest battle in a Lodge-Kennedy feud that began a half century ago.

It was away back there that President Kennedy's grandfather, John F. Fitzgerald, took the only election licking the Lodges ever gave the Kennedys clan.

It was President Kennedy who evened the score in 1952 for his grandfather when he captured a Senate seat from Henry Cabot Lodge, grandson of the winner early in the century.

After his Senate defeat in that year, Lodge became the Eisenhower administration's ambassador to the U.N. and two years ago he was the vice presidential nominee on the Republican ticket which went down before the Kennedy-Johnson team.

And there's even a famous name aiming for November election as an independent, Harvard history professor, H. Stuart Hughes, who says he is normally a Democrat. He's a grandson of Charles Evans Hughes, once Chief Justice of the United States.

But they said one priest was held under what amounted to house arrest at a monastery in nearby Escorial under orders of church officials. They said this priest has been summoned to Madrid for a hearing before high churchmen on complaints that he was among strike agitators in Barcelona. They refused to give his name.

Government sources said the decree restricting movements of Spaniards was aimed not only at halting the movements of opposition factions, including Gil Robles, a Madrid lawyer and politician identified as head of the Christian Democratic movement.

They said the decree was provoked by a reported meeting in Munich on June 5 and 6 at which Robles and Rodolfo Llopias, secretary-general in exile of the Social Workers' party of Spain, sought to influence the Association for European Union to declare against Franco.

The Falangist organ Arriba headlined its agency report of the Munich meeting "treason and stupidity are allied in a dirty union against Spain."

Surprisingly, the Spanish censorship permitted Madrid newspapers to publish a detailed account of the reported meeting, including the names of Spaniards participating.

THE BIG CHANGE . . . . . FARMERS INTERIOR

Each of our three floors has changed completely. Planning has increased the useable floor space considerably; in fact, over 30% has been gained for the bank. By lowering the ceiling on the main floor, an entire new second floor, or mezzanine, has been created. The removal of the large staircase from the main floor to the lower level has given added space to each of these floors. The new automatic elevator located in the vestibule provides quick transportation between floors.

This view greets you upon entering from our new State Street entrance. The Receptionist-Stenographer's Desk is in the foreground. The Assistant Cashier's and Cashier's, and President's office spaces and conference rooms are in the carpeted floor background.

As you enter from the Formers Building entrance, to the left is the Savings Department, Tellers' Booths, and Notes and Drafts Department. On the right is the New Accounts section. The floor is terrazzo and the teller stations are walnut

The lower level, looking toward the vault, and Safe Deposit Department. A new conference room and coupon booths are to the left. The floor is brown and cream vinyl tile. Soft light from the recessed ceiling fixtures add warmth and invitingness to the lower level.

Upon leaving the elevator on the lower level, you may enter the inviting new Installment Credit Department, which includes two customer conference rooms, the office of the Installment Manager, and private offices for the two secretaries.

The new second floor where the Trust Department is now located. The trust officers have two private offices. In addition, there is an office for the Farm Manager. Sculptured beige carpet and acoustical tile ceiling insure pleasant quietness to the area.

The Board of Directors Room also located on the new second floor. The furniture is Danish modern, made of walnut, and leather upholstered chairs in harmonizing colors. The lighting is recessed in ceiling and is shadow-free.

on which an orchid corsage was arranged.

The attendants were attired in light blue street length dresses of silk organza over taffeta and net. Small white veiled hats and white gloves complemented their costumes and they carried Colonial bouquets of white carnations.

Jack Thompson performed the double ring ceremony, by candlelight, with the bride's father giving her in marriage to William F. Markword, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Markword of this city.

The bride was beautiful as she descended the ribbon-trimmed stair case to the music of the wedding march, preceded by her sister and matron of honor, Mrs. Delbert F. Bireline, of this city. The groom chose his cousin, the Rev. Robert Goldsborough, of St. James, Illinois for best man. The bride and groom solemnized their vows before the fireplace mantel in the living room, which was decorated with silver candleabra, greenery, and white shasta daisies and gladioli.

Members of the families received guests during the reception, immediately following the ceremony. Assisting with the serving were Miss Carolyn Embold, Miss Linda Thompson and Miss Sandra Walker, all of Jacksonville.

The lovely bride wore a gown of white silk organza and charmingly lace over peau de soie. Illusion veiling fell finger-tip length from a jeweled crown of rhinestones. She carried her lace-covered Rainbow Bible, topped with pink sweetheart roses.

The matron of honor wore a waltz length gown of white organza, with daisy trim, and carried a daisy nosegay.

Mrs. Shook chose for her daughter's wedding a beige lace dress, worn with a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Markword, mother of the groom, wore a royal blue lace. Her flowers were also white carnations.

The newlyweds left for a wedding trip to California.

The couple will be residing in Adin, California, where the bridegroom is employed by the United States Forest Service.

Mrs. Markword graduated, as did her husband, from Jacksonville High School. Mr. Markword also attended the University of Southern Illinois.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Webster of Burlington, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Markword of Quincy, Illinois; the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Goldsborough of St. James, Illinois; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Carver, the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Carver, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Carver and Mr. and Mrs. Alva G. Cook, all of Peoria, Illinois.

Morgan 4-H Boys Study Soil And Water Management

SIXTEEN MEMBERS of 4-H agricultural club attended the 1962 Morgan county soil and water management school sponsored by the Extension Service and the Morgan County Soil Conservation district.

They braved some very bad winter weather to attend the school, but they had a mighty fine day for their field trip.

Now all they have to do is complete their record books and get some kind of exhibit ready for the Morgan county fair and they've completed the project.

The course was taught by Farm Adviser George Trull; his assistant, Dave Millis; Joe Graham, Morgan - Scott soil conservationist, and Martin Burrus, Arenzville farmer and member of the U.I. agronomy department board.

The first photo shows the group sitting in a lush growth of red clover and alfalfa as they review the major lessons around it and the margins of the pond they learned in the school. At the left are planted to red and white pine, tulip poplar and sweet gum trees.

The pond is located just northeast of St. Paul's Lutheran church and the extremely heavy crop of legumes indicates that covers about an acre and a half and it's stocked with blue gills, bass and channel catfish. There's a recommended fence around it and the margins of the pond may be seen a section of a new dual-purpose, gully control and stock water supply farm pond built by C. A. Schumacher in the fall of 1961. It's a deep farm pond the soil has been tested—and brought up to test.

The students were also interested in observing the terrace system installed on Applebee Farms, Sandusky Road, last year. The three terraces are all wide enough to permit planting and harvesting crops with conventional machinery and effective enough to keep the soil from heading to Mauvaisterre creek directly to the north. Graham said modern earth-moving equipment could build such terraces for about 10c per lineal foot.

In the third picture Martin Burrus uses a probe to take samples to show the profile of the soil; how it differs in value and potential productivity if it has been handled well or poorly.

A DISCUSSION of farm ponds and probably because of the intense competition safety was held at the Hobart Rigg titition of the heavy vegetation.

The final picture shows a cooperative purposes: gully control, stock water supply, effort between land owner and the highway and recreation—boating, fishing, way department to maintain the grade swimming and a picnic area. The cover of the road, to keep soil at home and around the pond is a heavy growth of to permit effective drainage. It's just fescue and brome grass. Nearly all the south of St. Paul's church and it was trees planted adjacent to the pond died, designed by SCS engineers. The back side of the structure must be filled flush with the road level and grass waterways must be established to slow down the water and prevent excessive silting.

Those completing the course were: North Side Ag club — Jim Burrus, Mike Kershaw, Roger Houston, Jerry Sorrell.

Lynnville Hustlers — Ronnie Leavell, David Middleton.

East Side Juniors — Kent Western.

Victory — Jim Morris, Tom Kircher, David and Arthur Schumacher, Duane Hess, Leslie and Ricky Morris, Billy Meier, Max Brockhouse.

Hardin And Pittsfield Among F.F.A. Chapter Winners In Chicago

Pittsfield, Rochester and Hardin were named the top three F.F.A. chapters in west central Illinois as the Illinois chapter, Future Farmers of Illinois, held its three-day convention in Chicago last week.

Pittsfield was the winner in Section 13; Rochester in 14 and Hardin in 15. Each will receive a plaque awarded by the Illinois Bankers association.

Section 15 is made up of Jersey, Greene, Macoupin, Calhoun, Morgan and Scott counties. The title was won in 1961 by Jacksonville.

The top seven chapters among the 49 in Illinois were Geneseo, Williamsfield, Sycamore, Augusta, Maroa, Champaign and Lawrenceville.

Cullen Sweet Recognized

Friday afternoon the association bestowed the Honorary State Farmer degree upon 16 Illinois agricultural leaders and farmers.

Among them were Ralph Bradley, director of the Illinois State Agriculture department, and Cullen Sweet, director of organization, Illinois Agricultural association.

Sixteen candidates for the American Farmer degree were also announced at the convention, which ran Wednesday through Friday at the Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago. None of the candidates were from this area.

The degrees will be conferred at the national convention in Kansas City, Mo., next fall. Only "one in a thousand" can win this degree, the highest the national association can give.

An American Farmer must have earned at least $1,000 from his supervised farming program started while taking vocational agriculture in high school. Candidates must show outstanding scholarship, cooperation, thrift and leadership abilities through participation in FFA, school and community activities.

Star State Farmer

Ronald Debatin, 17, of Pocahontas (Bond county) was chosen the Star State Farmer. The announcement was made in the closing minutes of the last session of the convention.

Debatin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson L. Debatin, enrolled in vocational agriculture at the Greenville Community High School four years ago. He began his farming program with two registered Holstein cows and a heifer. With the advice of his parents and the supervision of his vocational agriculture instructor, Carl S. Lock, Ronald's dairy cattle herd had increased to 23 head by his senior year. His supervised farming program also includes 16 beef animals, 65 acres of corn, 45 acres of soybeans, 20 acres of wheat, 15 acres of rye and 27 acres of red clover. This well-balanced supervised farming program contributed to Ronald's success in attaining the coveted State Farmer award.

Illinois Farmers Outlook Letter

THE FIRE IS ON THE ROOF

Why pour water in the basement when the fire is on the roof? We would not do that if we had a real fire. But we have been just as impractical in our efforts to raise farm income.

Farm income is what is left for the producer after all costs are paid. Farm income therefore can be raised by increasing the difference between prices of farm products and the costs of producing and marketing them.

Why be concerned about costs? Two reasons: First, we have worked on the price side for 30 years and have not had satisfactory results. Second, nearly 90 per cent of the money spent by consumers for farm products is absorbed by costs of marketing and production.

Prices of our farm products are strongly influenced by world-wide conditions. But costs-of marketing and production—are largely "made in the U.S.A." Farmers suffer when U.S.-made costs get too high in relation to world-made prices.

Our prices are dependent upon world conditions because (1) we produce for foreign as well as domestic markets and (2) we maintain relatively open markets with little restrictions upon imports.

Neither of these conditions seems likely to be changed in the foreseeable future.

Heavy Export Business

In the latest fiscal year we exported 49 per cent of our wheat and cotton, 26 per cent of our soybeans and the oil from 14 per cent more. We also exported 56 per cent of our rice, 29 per cent of our tobacco and 16 per cent of the feed grains sold by farmers—$531 million worth. In all, we exported nearly $5 billion worth of farm products, while we imported over $3 billion worth.

Now look at costs: Of a dollar spent by U.S. consumers for food, 61 per cent is taken for marketing expenses, mostly for labor. Of the 39 cents that gets back to the farmer, about 27 cents is paid out for production expenses, again largely labor costs. Only 12 cents, left for the farm family. And even the buying power of this 12 cents is continuously reduced by rising costs of supplies and services required by the farm family.

Other industries, too, are injured by excessive increases in costs. But agriculture suffers more than most because it is more dependent upon foreign markets and foreign competition.

Too High Here

There is strong evidence that the U. S. wage-cost structure is too high. The evidence is the flight of U. S. money and gold to foreign lands. Money, including gold, always goes to markets that have the best buys.

Many economists and public officials now recognize the general problem. Thus we have had government pressure for "inflationary wage contracts and price policies for steel and other industries. But as yet too few of our leaders recognize the effect of excessive rises in wages and costs on farm income.

For 30 years we have concentrated on raising prices—pouring water in the basement. The results have been unsatisfactory to farmers and the public—because our costs, the fire on the roof, have received too little attention. It is time to change our strategy.

L. H. Simeri

Department of Agricultural Economics

A study of 38 central Illinois farms by the University of Illinois shows that a farmer could completely with the feed grain program for one year without reducing his net earnings. At the same time farmers who complied helped reduce surpluses by about 100 tons less corn per farm.

Research Says Haylage Can Be Stored Safely In Conventional Silo

URBANA — Enough research evidence is in to prove conclusively that farmers can store low-moisture silage or "haylage" in conventional upright silos.

University of Illinois dairy scientist Leo Fryman says the studies also show that dairy cows eat haylage readily and produce well on it. However, he believes the system should be recommended only to the careful operator.

U. of I. dairy scientists say reports from research workers and from dairymen who have had from one to three years of experience with low-moisture silage indicate that the following steps are necessary to produce a satisfactory feed:

1. Cut the forage in the early stages of growth. Alfalfa should be harvested in the bud or pre-bud stage. The early-cut material is highly digestible and will pack better than more mature forage.

2. Chop the crop short. About 1 inch cut is best. Keep knives on the forage cutter sharp. Use a hay conditioner to speed up drying time and to save leaves.

3. Dry the forage in the windrow. Rake before the top leaves are fully dry, or windrow as you mow. It's also a good idea to haul the forage to the silo in a covered wagon to cut down leaf loss. Then fill the silo reasonably fast, without long delays.

4. Keep the material evenly distributed in the silo during filling. A mechanical distributor in the silo is helpful.

5. Seal silo doors and be sure there are no cracks in the wall. Coating the inside with a good silo surfacing material may help seal out air.

6. If silage feeding is not started within a day or so after filling, use a plastic cap to seal the top. Then chop a load or two of unwanted forage and blow it in on top of the plastic cap.

Fryman says there apparently is a time during drying when forage is quite difficult to cut and blow. An operator's best bet is to start chopping as soon as the material begins to chop easily. At this stage, the forage has about the right moisture content to make good low-moisture silage.

Research shows that losses may be high when low-moisture silage is stored in a bunker or trench silo.

There are about 133 physicians and 57 dentists per 100,000 persons in the U.S. population.

There are an estimated 2,150 languages in the world.

This Week.. at Dixon Springs

Always, all year long, there is plenty of work to keep people on the Station busy. But May is an especially busy time. A dry May made possible much activity in plowing and planting corn. This month also was one of the best for making hay. The horticulture crew has been busy planting and cultivating garden truck, and the strawberries in variety tests have been going on. Sampling of pasture forage is an everyday job, and now the bulls are being selected to go out with the various cow herds. And all this time weeds have been growing and the pastures need clipping. ## GRADUATE JOINS PEACE CORPS

Sally Timmel, Oconomowoc, Wis.—The first MacMurray College graduate to join the Peace Corps—receives her diploma from President Gordon E. Michelson at Commencement Sunday.

On July 7 Miss Timmel will travel to Washington, D.C., where she and some 300 other new volunteers will take three months' intensive training in preparation for a new Peace Corps project in Ethiopia. They will then travel to the "Land of the Lion of Judah" to teach secondary school.

Ethiopia—an ancient African country bordering on the Red Sea—has recently launched an ambitious program of modernization and industrialization, and is simultaneously expanding the country's educational opportunities.

The need in education is acute. The Ethiopian Ministry of Education estimates there are about one million persons of high school age in the country, and only enough teachers for 6000—three fifths of one per cent of the total.

"Our purpose," stated Miss Timmel, "is not to force the American way of life upon others, for our way is certainly not the best way for all. Rather, we hope to help fill Ethiopia's educational gap, while participating in a sharing experience—exchanging ideas and experiences."

Miss Timmel, having previously participated in an American Lutheran Icelandic Work Camp and toured Europe for five weeks, feels that cross-cultural communication is imperative for harmonious international relations in today's shrinking world.

"I hope that upon my return from Ethiopia," she explained, "I will personally be a more concerned and informed American citizen, and that I will be able to help bring to many others a sense of international understanding by sharing my experiences with them."

Miss Timmel, a biology major at MacMurray, anticipates teaching biology and physical education in Ethiopia.

S. Jacksonville School Library Program Set

South Jacksonville School will begin its summer library program on Tuesday, June 12 at 9:30 a.m. Students from South Jacksonville school may check out books from 9:30-11:30.

This is the third year for the summer library program. Mr. Charles Blesse, school librarian, volunteered two years ago to inaugurate such a program since South Jacksonville children do not have free access to the public library. The response was so gratifying that the South Jacksonville

PTA offered to sponsor it annually. Last summer over 1,000 books were circulated and approximately 200 children used the library. Robert Adams, principal at South Jacksonville school, and teachers from the school have urged the children to take advantage of the opportunity to select books for summer reading. It is especially beneficial to children just learning to read since they can continue using and improving their reading skills.

An addition to the program this year will be a story hour, supervised by Mrs. Wm. Terry and Mrs. William Freeman. Under their direction, 6th grade students will read suitable books to South Jacksonville youngsters who have finished kindergarten or first grade. The story hour will be from 9:30 until 10:00 and only those ages specified will be admitted.

WIGHTMAN CUP TEAM INCLUDES FOUR OF LAST YEAR'S SQUAD

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. Wightman Cup team was named Friday and includes four of the same players who last year defeated the cream of Britain's women tennis players 6-1 in the annual matches at Wimbledon.

Selected to the team again are Mrs. Margaret Osborne duPont of Joseph, Ore., who for the second straight year will be playing captain for the matches with the British at Wimbledon June 15 and 16; Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif.; Mrs. Karen Hantze-Jamer.

Susan of Chula Vista, Calif., and Margaret Varner of Wilmington, Del.

The others are Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., and Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex. The selection committee ignored Justina Bricks of St. Louis, a member of the team last year and America's fifth-ranked woman player, and Carole Caldwell, 18-year-old coed from Santa Monica, Calif., both of whom have played spectacularly in the current Northern Lawn Tennis Championships at Manchester, England.

Johnny Sellers, leading jockey in 1961, plans to ride over the 16; Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif.; Mrs. Karen Hantze-Jamer.

Daytona 250 Set For Independence Day In Florida

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — The 1961 "Daytona 500" race winner, Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach, will team up with Glenn Wood of Stuart, Va. for the fourth annual "Daytona Firecracker 250" Grand National Classic scheduled for Independence Day, July 4, starting at 11 a.m.

Panch will drive the 1962 Ford owned and maintained by the "Woodchopper" from Virginia, a pretty good driver himself who prefers to leave the larger and faster tracks to Panch and the other daredevil performers.

Panch's entry strengthens the Ford ranks for the 250-mile Daytona race, an event which has escaped the Ford victory grasp for three years. In fact, the Fords are still seeking their first Daytona win in either the "Firecracker 250" or the "Daytona 500."

Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., almost climbed aboard the victory wagon last July, but was nosed out at the finish of a sensational fast race by Dave Pearson of Spartanburg, S. C. in a 1961 Pontiac with an average speed of 154.294 miles per hour for a world stock car record.

Lorenzen and Nelson Stacy of Daytona Beach are already entered with a pair of 1962 Fords equipped with the new type tops and owned by Holman and Moody of Charlotte, N. C.

Pontiacs have dominated in the three July races to date with Fireball Roberts winning the first in 1959 with an average speed of 140.591 miles per hour; Jack Smith of Spartanburg the second in 1960 with an average speed of 146.842 miles per hour and then Pearson the 1961 event at 154.294 miles per hour.

In the four "Daytona 500" races, Lee Petty won the first with an Oldsmobile. Junior Johnson the second with a Chevrolet, Marvin Panch the third with a Pontiac and Fireball Roberts the 1962 race with another Pontiac. In these events the winning speeds have jumped from 135.521 miles per hour in 1959 to 152.529 in 1962. Practice starts at Daytona June 28 with qualifying trials set for June 30 and four 25-mile qualifying races on tap for Sunday, July 1, to determine starting positions for the Independence Day race.

Bettors World's Two Mile Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Little Jim Beatty bettered the world 2-mile record Friday night with the sensational time of 8:29.8.

The record is 8:32.0, set by Alfred Thomas of Australia, Aug. 7, 1958, in Dublin, Ireland. Beatty, returning to action after suffering three different leg injuries in recent weeks, ran the Southern Pacific AAU championships at Occidental College's Patterson Field.

Murray Halberg of Australia was timed in 8:30.0 in Sweden last year but the time has not been recognized.

Beatty, of the Los Angeles Track Club, ran the last lap in 59.8 as several thousand spectators cheered him on. His time bettered the American record of 8:40.8, set by Halberg at Palo Alto, Calif., Jan. 7, 1961.

The American citizens' record of 8:42.5 is held by Dyrrol Burleson of Oregon. Jim Grelle, Beatty's teammate who was running the two miles for the first time in his career, finished second in 8:36.0 and Bob Schul also of the Los Angeles Track Club, was third in 8:37.3.

TENNIS TURNABOUT

CLEMSON, S. C. (AP) — The 1961 tennis team at Clemson College lost all 16 of its matches. Coach Leslie Longshore's 1962 team turned in one of the sharpest turnabouts in Atlantic Coast Conference history, winning 14 out of 15.

THREE OF A KIND . . . BUT RARE

Triplets for cows are about as rare as a royal flush to a poker player according to some authorities but it did happen south of Prentice to this cow owned by E. J. Mau of Ashland and the Moy Farms of Jacksonville Monday about noon. All three little calves are marked nearly alike and all are female. The whole family group seemed to be in the best of health when this photo was taken.

Asked about the ancestry of the cow, one of the farm operators said she was as common as an old shoe and didn't boast any particular breed or registry. Matter of fact, the owners had contemplated selling the cow because she is bob-tailed and without the usual fly-swatter that comes with most cows.

One of the calves is scheduled to return to the herd of stock cows but two grandchildren indicated to the photographer that they had already set their sights on the other two.

DON'T KNOCK OPPORTUNITY

Essegian Finds Role Of Starter Just Fine

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Chuck Essegian has a ready answer whenever he's asked why after five years in the major leagues he suddenly has become one of the most dangerous hitters in the American League.

"For the first time since I've come up to the big leagues," said the slugging Cleveland outfielder just before leaving for Boston. "I've been given an opportunity to play regularly."

Since Manager Mel McGaha decided to give the dark-haired former ace fullback at Stanford a real shot at the left field job, 30-year-old Essegian has been one of the leading hitters in the league.

Although currently in the midst of a slight slump, he is still batting .338 with 13 home runs and 24 runs batted in. He leads the club in hitting, home runs and is second to John Romano in runs batted in.

Since he came into organized baseball in 1953, Essegian has played with 19 clubs, and never has been with the same club two full seasons in succession. His major league trail has carried him from Philadelphia to St. Louis to Los Angeles to Baltimore to Kansas City and finally to Cleveland. The Indians purchased him from the Athletics last May.

In the 1959 World Series, he hit two pinch-hit homers for the Dodgers but the next year, he was sold to the Orioles.

"I thought after what I did in the World Series, the Dodgers would give me an opportunity to play a little more. But it was just another in a series of many disappointments."

Manny Jimenez, Kansas City rookie outfielder who has been leading American League in hitting this spring, formerly was in the Milwaukee chain. He hit 17 homers for Vancouver, B. C., last year.

Tied at 144 were Nello Campagni, North Chicago bowling alley proprietor, and Bob Ellis of Evanston, golf star at Oklahoma State.

The qualifiers: Joe Hirsch, Highland Park, 68-72-141; Edward Nelson, Zion, 69-72-141; Nello Campagni, North Chicago, 72-72-144; Bob Ellis, Evanston, 73-71-144; Cal Tanner, Chicago, 71-74-145; Tom Sisolak, Waukegan, 74-71-145.

Western Illinois Captures NCAA Golf Tournament

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP) — Western Illinois captured the team title and Steve Spray of Eastern New Mexico won the individual crown Friday in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Golf Tournament.

Western Illinois, which failed to place a player among the top five individuals but had three in the first 10, had a team total of 300 Friday for a 72-hole low of 1,210 strokes.

That was six strokes better than the total carded by Texas Wesleyan, the runner-up. Leading Western Illinois were Len Vioeca with a 72-hole total of 300, Pete Cimballo with a 302 and Roy Barnhart with a 303.

Spray, who led throughout the tournament, fired a 73 on the last round for a total of 290.

CUBS OPTION ELDER WHITE FOR GRAMMAS

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs Friday optioned rookie shortstop Elder White to San Antonio to make room for veteran infielder Alex Grammas, who was obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals in a four-player trade in midweek.

Ed Jucker, who coached Cincinnati to the 1961 and 1962 NCAA basketball title, is a 1940 graduate of Cincinnati.

LEE MAYE RETURNS TO ACTIVE LIST

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves announced Friday that outfielder Lee Maye has been returned to the active list and rookie pitcher Cecil Butler has been optioned to Louisville.

Maye, who has been sidelined since opening day with pneumonia, was scheduled to be in uniform for Milwaukee's home game with Pittsburgh Friday night.

Butler, also out of action with pneumonia, had appeared in seven games. He had a 2-0 record and a 2.70 earned run average. He was sent to the American Association club in Louisville subject to 24-hour recall.

HE KNEW ABOUT RF

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Hank Bauer of the Kansas City Athletics had asked outfielder Manny (El Mulo) Jimenez if he had ever played in Yankee Stadium.

"No," replied the Mule, "but I heard about the short right field there."

All Star Pitcher Doesn't Mind New Hurling Chores

BOSTON (AP) — Gary Bell, once the ace of Cleveland's pitching staff, hasn't started a game in nearly a month. It may be another month before he starts again. Or he may not start another game the remainder of the season.

The 25-year-old Texan, who won 16 games for the Indians two years ago, and was good enough to be selected to the All-Star team in 1960, is now the Indians' No. 1 relief pitcher and he doesn't mind it a bit.

"It's a new and exciting experience for me," said Bell Friday. "I didn't like it at first, but I do now."

Bell relieved starter Jim Perry in the eighth inning Thursday night in New York when the Yankees scored three times and shut out the Indians for the second straight day. It wasn't one of Bell's better efforts since the three runners who had been on base when Bell took over eventually scored.

One of the runs scored on a soft fly to right by Bobby Richardson that Willie Kirkland misplayed another crossed the plate on an error by second baseman Jerry Kindall and a third on a fly ball.

"Bell has done a wonderful job for us," said Manager Mel McGaha. "He's made the change-over beautifully. He's already saved seven ball games for us. I'd say he's contributing as much now, if not more, than he did as a starter."

Recipes often call for slicing green beans in 1 inch diagonal lengths. After washing (and scrubbing) the beans in cold water, drain. Stack three or four beans together and slice into the desired lengths. Cutting several beans at one time in this way saves time.
